DIAMOND OIL
112 and over FIRE TEST,
and guaranteed NON-EXPLOSIVE.

We call your attention to this oil, which we recommend for families, being as white as pure spring water, and perfectly free from smoke, smell, or odour issuing from common oils, and burns longer without trimming or crusting the wick than any other.
It is extensively used in Europe (under the brand of Oleophene), where it commands a higher price than any other. The same can unhesitatingly be said of this, the home market, where it has been largely used for mixing with other oils of inferior quality, and by well-known competitive Packers, for the purpose of establishing their brands.
Our DIAMOND BRAND is patented as a Trade Mark, and we, therefore, caution dealers against using the cans or cases for repacking inferior oils. We repeat our guarantee as to the quality, and we challenge comparison with any other oil, as we know the Diamond to be the best.

ALFRED NOBEL'S GIANT BLASTING POWDER or DYNAMITE.
TO MINERS, MINING MANAGERS, and DIRECTORS OF MINES.
SAVE TIME! SAVE LABOUR! SAVE CANDLES! SAVE STEEL! SAVE HAMMERS! AND SAVE MONEY by USING THE GIANT POWDER.
1. It saves life and accidents, as it is tamped with water, and saves all the risk of boring out missed holes.
2. It saves time, as it strikes downwards as well as upwards, and crushes the rock much more than any other powder does.
3. It saves labour, as one man with a ¾-inch drill and 3½-lb. hammer could do as much as two men with larger drills.
4. It saves half the candles.
5. It saves steel and hammers, as only about half the weight of steel is required to drill the holes, and the small hammers do not wear out or get broken as much as the larger hammers.
6. It saves half the expense of sharpening drills.
7. It saves rents on Government leases, as a mine can be worked out in half the time.

LITTLE WANZER SEWING MACHINES.
ANOTHER NEW PROOF OF THE UNPARALLELED EXCELLENCE of the "Little Wanzer" is afforded in the following telegram. This machine now holds SIX GOLD MEDALS, of RECENT DATE, besides numerous other first-prize awards.
☞ The patent having many years still to run imitators are guilty of felony.
The following TELEGRAM was received by the "Wanzer" Company on the 2nd of LAST November:—
"Ontario, November 2, 1872.
"The Little Wanzer Sewing Machine has been awarded the GOLD MEDAL for South America."
☞ The Little Wanzer has been selected for use in the British National and Industrial Schools,
THE "LITTLE WANZER" IS USED BY THE ROYAL FAMILY OF ENGLAND, AND MOST OF THE ROYAL FAMILIES OF EUROPE.
The CIVIL SERVICE GAZETTE, a London paper of the very highest standing, in a long article on Sewing Machines, uses the following words:—"The Ex-Empress of the French, the Empress of Russia, and the Queens of Bavaria and Greece, we are told by Court newsmen, beguile their hours with the LITTLE WANZER, a Sewing Machine of great elegance and simplicity, and which is now generally adopted by the English Government for the Industrial Schools. It retains five gold medals and certificates of the highest order of merit."

TO CAPITALISTS, SPECULATORS, and others.
For POSITIVE SALE, that well-known PRIVATE RESIDENCE of Mr. L. Mandelson, situated at the corner of Russell and Wynyard streets, being the most central part of the rising town of Tumut.
The building is of brick, stone foundation, two stories high, faithfully built, with a spacious verandah and balcony; the rooms are large and lofty, and from the fact of the proprietor having originally built the house with the object of converting it into an hotel, it could at a small outlay be made suitable to carry on an extensive trade, which must become large as the famous quartz reefs, alluvial diggings, and copper mines east of Tumut are further developed.
The outhouses consist of kitchen, servants' rooms, laundry, with sleeping rooms above, all fitted with every convenience. The extent of land is one acre, half of which is laid down with choice trees, but could either be used in connection with the hotel or disposed of as valuable building sites.
To small capitalists the above offers a rare opportunity, as the terms will be liberal.

PARAFFIN.—Twenty-five years ago paraffin was first distilled from oil found in a Derbyshire coal-mine. When this was exhausted, experiments were made by Mr. James Young, which proved that paraffin could be extracted from any kind of bituminous shale or coal; and he began with a mineral so rich that it yielded one hundred and twenty gallons of crude oil to the ton. This having in turn become exhausted, shales are now worked which yield not more than from fifteen to thirty-five gallons per ton. But that this smaller quantity is profitable is manifest by there being in Scotland alone sixty-eight oil-works, which consume in the year 782,000 tons of shale, and produce 21,840,000 gallons of oil, from which are extracted ten million gallons of oil for lamps, five thousand tons of paraffin, and six hundred tons of sulphate of ammonia. The paraffin is used in the manufacture of candles, for various purposes in the arts and in pharmacy; and as a lining for beer-casks it effectually prevents their becoming foul. A layer of paraffin preserves fruits, jams, and meats from taint and putrefaction; and it prevents the decay of stone. By treatment with paraffin, woven goods can be rendered waterproof; it is used instead of sulphur in the preparation of lucifer matches; and last, though not least, paraffin is a non-conductor of electricity, and takes its place among the best of insulators. This is a prodigious sum of results within a quarter of a century. The world is much indebted to Mr. James Young for his share in the achievement thereof. Perhaps experiment would prove that paraffin is a good dressing for cotton yarns, and with preservative qualities. The reproach of cotton-spinners would then be wiped away, and the fair fame of English commerce would not be blurred by "Manchester mildew."—Chambers.

LAW.

SUPREME COURT.—FRIDAY, JULY 4.

SITTINGS IN BANCO.

BEFORE Sir ALFRED STEPHEN (Chief Justice), Mr. Justice CHEEKE, and Mr. Justice FAUCETT.

EXPARTE HARVEY IN RE TAYLOR. QUO WARRANTO.

This was a motion upon rule nisi under the 99th section of the Municipalities Act of 1867, for a proceeding in the nature of a quo warranto, to oust Mr. Hugh Taylor from the office at present held by him as Mayor of the borough of Parramatta.

Sir James Martin, Q.C., and Mr. Darley appeared in support of the motion; the Attorney-General and Mr. Salomons showed cause against it.

The promovent here was Mr. Henry Harvey, a duly qualified ratepayer of the borough, who made affidavit—supported by the affidavits of four other ratepayers—as to the facts; which were admitted. It appeared that the municipality of Parramatta is divided into four wards, each of which returns three aldermen, there being thus twelve in all, four of whom annually retire in rotation. In February last there were thus four vacancies, one in each ward; and on the 7th of that month there was an election meeting at which polling took place, and four of the candidates were duly returned and gazetted. Under the 42nd section of the Municipalities' Act the Council clerk, within seven days of the election, convened a meeting of the aldermen for the election of a Mayor; and all twelve were summoned. On the 10th February this meeting took place; there was a full attendance, and two candidates were nominated, namely, Alderman Hugh Taylor, the then late Mayor, and Alderman Charles Joseph Byrnes. The meeting sat from 8 p.m. until 2 a.m. of the following morning, when it terminated without any result having been arrived at, the voting having been equal upon both sides. Between that and the 8th April following some thirteen meetings were held, at various dates, all of which, like the first, terminated without result. On or about April 10th one of the aldermen, named Williams, died. The Council clerk convened another meeting for the 23rd April, and summoned the remaining eleven aldermen. It was accordingly held on the date mentioned, but only Alderman Taylor and his five supporters attended, and by them he was there and then elected Mayor. He accepted office, took the statutory declaration of fidelity, and has since acted as Mayor; having taken the chair at the usual Council meetings, signed documents, and given notices of motion as such, and acted as Returning-officer at the election to fill the vacancy occasioned by Alderman Williams's death, whereat Mr. R. A. Ritchie was declared elected. The principal question now raised was whether Taylor's election as Mayor had been legal and pursuant to the 42nd section of the statute; the meeting not having been convened within seven days after the annual election of four aldermen. The mistake made by the Council was apparently the circumstance of their having terminated the first election meeting, instead of adjourning it, as also each of the subsequent ones, from day to day until the Mayor was elected. The 42nd section provides that "Within seven days after the first election and each subsequent annual election, on a day and at an hour to be fixed (at the first election by the Returning-officer, who shall preside thereat), and at subsequent elections by the Council clerk, and to be notified to the whole of the aldermen in the same manner as an ordinary summons to a Council meeting, not more than four days nor less than twenty-four hours previously, such aldermen or a majority of them shall meet as soon as possible (after the first election, at such place as the Returning-officer shall have notified), and after all subsequent annual elections, at the office or ordinary place of meeting of the Council, and shall choose and appoint, by such mode of voting as they may deem expedient, some one member of the Council to be Mayor, who shall go out of office at the next annual election of aldermen, but may then be re-elected." It was insisted that the words of the statute "within seven days" were express; and that therefore all the meetings subsequent to the first had been illegal. Under the 65th section the annual election of aldermen in all municipalities must take place on the first Tuesday in February, each year. As Mr. St. Julian in his note to section 42 observes, "The Mayor does not remain in office as do the aldermen and auditors until his successor is elected. Directly the annual election is over (i.e., directly he has 'returned' the whole of the aldermen and auditors and has consequently ceased to be 'returning-officer') he ceases to be anything more than an alderman in any case; and, if his time of office has expired, he ceases to be a member of the Council." It would follow from this that the meeting for election of a Mayor in any municipality must be convened within a week after the annual return of aldermen; the only allowance being under the 199th section for days falling on a Good Friday, Sunday, or public holiday. There were two other objections taken. The first of these was that as under the 42nd section, notice of the election meeting must be given "to the whole of the aldermen" and as in this case only eleven had been notified (for the obvious reason that one was dead), the statute had not been complied with in that particular. The second was under the 101st section, which provides that "all acts authorized or required by law to be done and all questions to be decided by the Council shall be done and decided by a majority of the whole number of members of such Council; or a moiety when such number is even shall be a quorum." Here there had not been a moiety, or majority of the whole, but only of the smaller number to which the Council was reduced by the extraordinary vacancy. For the respondent it was urged, in the first place, that the effect of making the order sought would be to render the Council entirely powerless. There could be no validity to the proceedings of the Council without a Mayor; and if the gentleman at present in office were illegally in the mayoral chair for the reason assigned, it followed à fortiori that no other alderman could be elected. Thus no rates could be collected, nor any proceedings taken for the benefit of the municipality. It was not shown upon this application that any amelioration of affairs would result from it, or that any ill effect had followed the present state of things; but on the contrary the present "dead-lock" would continue until relief were afforded by legislation or otherwise. It was contended as against the objection mainly relied upon, that it was not intended that the appointment of Mayor must take place within seven days of the aldermanic elections. The Council clerk was allowed seven days within which to call the Council together; and if the election must take place within that time, the section would be wholly inoperative, because as twenty-four hours' notice must be given to each of the aldermen, the clerk would not have the seven days specified in the section, but only six. The 115th section, providing that a vacancy in the Council should not invalidate proceedings, was also relied upon.

Their HONORS were unanimous in granting the order. The CHIEF JUSTICE said that he believed the election here was void; and he based his judgment entirely upon the wording of the 42nd section, which he thought it was impossible to mistake, although the section itself—unlike the generality of the Act—appeared to have been loosely and inconsiderately drawn. It was impossible for the Legislature to provide for the case of an alderman dying, or becoming insane, within the seven days after the election; but even if such an event did occur, the remainder might meet. Here, however, the twelve aldermen of the borough actually did assemble within the stipulated time, but failed to make an election. It was plain, from the wording of the section, that the intention of the Legislature was, that the election should take place within the seven days. Thus it was provided that not less than twenty-four hours' notice should be given to each alderman; but, then, on the other hand, it was further laid down that the notice was not to exceed four days; thus manifestly indicating that the election was to be expedited as much as possible. The words of the section were "the aldermen or a majority of them shall meet," and these words were imperative; "shall" being expressly defined as an imperative term by the Acts Shortening Act. But if the intention was merely that the Council clerk should have seven days allowed him within which to call a meeting, he might convene it for a day, six weeks, or six months subsequent. It was clear, therefore, that the election was to take place in the seven days, or even sooner if possible; it was the duty of the Council clerk to call the aldermen together as quickly as possible. The election must be made then, or not at all. A Mayor held office, not until the election of his successor, but until the annual aldermanic election, after which his tenure ceased. In the interim between that and the mayoral election there was no head to the Corporation which in itself would render it void, were it not that this contingency is expressly provided for in the statute. It was therefore of the greatest possible consequence that the election should take place as speedily as might be; and there was every reason for assuming that to be the intention of the Legislature. Then the question arose whether, by granting the order, the Corporation would be disfranchised. Possibly it might; but the refusal of this order would not make the election valid. If the Corporation were disfranchised, it was the fault of those who, for the sake of protracting a party contest, had put themselves in a predicament of disfranchising the entire body. Each or either of the candidates might have withdrawn for the sake of determining the matter; but instead of that, each party of six must contest it to the bitter end; and the result was, that through the death of one alderman, the other party were enabled to return these men. Whether this was public spirit or not, he (the Chief Justice) did not pretend to decide; but he thought the order should go as a caution to gentlemen similarly circumstanced to consider the interests of the public a little more than party triumph.—Mr. Justice CHEEKE concurred—Mr. Justice FAUCETT concurred. To read the 42nd section, as the Attorney-General construed it, would be to pervert plain language. The only doubt he had entertained had been whether the Court, in the exercise of its discretion, ought to interfere; and he had come to the conclusion that it was desirable for many reasons. It was important that corporations should understand distinctly that the election of their officers must be within the proper time. The difficulty had been entirely created by the aldermen themselves, and it was not for the Court to take into consideration the position of gentlemen whose conduct it was impossible to approve. The words of the section were clear and imperative.

CENTRAL POLICE COURT.

FRIDAY.

BEFORE the Police Magistrate, with Messrs. Pinhey, G. Hill, Oatley, and Palmer.

Fourteen persons were fined for drunkenness, or for disorderly conduct, or for using obscene language.

Andrew Gilbert, charged with having obstructed a constable in the performance of his duty, having for his object the release of a person in custody, pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to pay a penalty of 40s., or to be imprisoned fourteen days.

William Wade was charged with stealing from the person. Michael Kane deposed that he is a labourer, and that he resides on "the Rocks;" was drunk yesterday; remembers being awoke by a constable in Clarence-street; he then found that a pair of new boots had been taken from his feet, and an old pair, which do not belong to him, was left near him. Ellen Fogan, residing in Clarence-street, deposed that between 2 and 3 yesterday afternoon, she saw prisoner take the boots off prosecutor's feet and go away with them; she told him to put them back, and he made a foul answer. Prisoner offered no defence, and was committed for trial at the Quarter Sessions.

Alfred G. Manthel was charged with feloniously uttering a forged cheque. Detective Lyons, on Wednesday last, apprehended the prisoner, who, immediately on hearing the charge, took from his pocket and commenced to tear a piece of paper; Lyons attempted to take possession of it, but prisoner put it into his mouth and chewed it until it became pulp when he spat it out. Henry Asher Davis deposed that, on the 28th June, the prisoner, in payment for a teapot, price 1s. 6d., paid him the cheque produced; it purported to be drawn on the Commercial Banking Company of Sydney by C. Roberts in favour of Mr. C. Backer, for payment of £2 10s.; he said it was a good cheque, and described the drawer as a publican, carrying on business in Woolloomooloo; believing his statement, took the cheque and gave him the change; he said he would call for the teapot but has not done so; took the cheque for payment, but it was returned unpaid. Henry C. Doyle deposed that no C. Roberts has any account in the Commercial Bank. Lyons deposed that he cannot find a publican in Woolloomooloo of the name of C. Roberts. Prisoner, in reply, said "I have nothing to say, I am not guilty." Committed for trial at the Quarter Sessions.

Francis Clark, charged with having assaulted William Morrissey, pleaded guilty, and was ordered to pay 40s. penalty, or to be imprisoned fourteen days.

Maria Machin was summarily convicted of having stolen a pair of boots, the property of Francis Belman, and was sentenced to forfeit 20s., or to be imprisoned seven days.

Five prisoners were discharged and three were remanded.

On the summons paper were twenty-three cases, of which one was dismissed, another was postponed, and nine were not prosecuted. Frederick Charles Passan complained of C. B. Snyder, agent of the circus, that on the 30th June he did unlawfully assault and beat him. Mr. C. Davis, for defendant, pleaded cause to show. Mr. Roberts, conducting the prosecution, and examined the complainant, who deposed that on last Monday night he took two children, one aged 8 and the other 2½ years, to see the performances at the Circus; at the close of the performances he went to go out through the 6s. seats, when defendant ran up to him, caught him by the collar and shook him violently, saying at the same time, "You —— fellow, if you don't go back I will knock —— out of you;" complainant had the younger child in his arms at this time; defendant did not desire him to go back before assaulting him as he has explained; he (complainant) was put in bodily fear and felt himself degraded by defendant's treatment of him. By Mr. Davis: He saw the fruiterers passing between the row of seats—to the annoyance of the spectators—and thought that he might go out that way; he had previously gone there for the purpose of leaving the place, one of his children requiring to go, but on being told by one of the ushers that it was contrary to rule, he returned, and, finding his seat occupied, had to stand until another seat was found for him; as soon as he was assaulted he was surrounded by men belonging to the circus. Re-examined: Defendant did not say that he should not go out that way before he laid hands on him; there were no places of exit provided such as are found in the theatres. William H. Schroder corroborated the complainant. For the defence Mr. Davis called Alfred Solomons and John Neale, ticket-takers at the circus; G. Agrati, manager; after hearing whom the Justices found the defendant guilty, and sentenced him to pay a penalty of 20s., 6s. 6d. costs of Court, and 21s. professional costs.

Eight persons were fined in sums varying from 2s. 6d. to 20s. for offences against the Police Act and municipal by-laws.

LICENSING BUSINESS.—An auctioneer's license was granted to John Speerin, and a pawnbroker's license to Samuel Cantor. Two publicans' licenses were transferred,—Commercial Hotel, King-street, from the legal representative of John Blow, deceased, to Ellen Blow; and the Lighthouse Hotel, Bathurst-street, from the executors of Ann Shelly, deceased, to Edward Bladen. Eleven billiard licenses, thirteen bagatelle licenses, and four hawkers' licenses were also granted.

WATER POLICE COURT.

FRIDAY.

BEFORE the Water Police Magistrate, with Messrs. Hale, Lester, and Spence.

Several persons were fined for drunkenness.

William Owen, convicted of indecent behaviour in Bridge-street, was fined 10s., in default of payment to go to gaol for four days.

George Burnell was fined 10s., in default of payment four days' imprisonment, for making use of obscene language in George-street.

William Davis, charged by warrant with continued disobedience on board the ship Halloween, was sent to gaol for fourteen days. Mr. J. Lowe appeared for the prosecution.

John Edwards, charged with wilful disobedience on board the ship Falcon, was sent to gaol for a similar term.

The charge against David Thompson for wife desertion was withdrawn.

Before Mr. Lester.

ALLEGED PERJURY.

Robert Alfred Schaefer, on bail, was charged for that, on the 23rd June, in the present year, at the Insolvent Court, Sydney, in a case then pending in the said Court, wherein Archibald Thompson was complainant and one Alfred Schaefer was defendant, he did, in his evidence given in the case before the said Court, wilfully and corruptly commit wilful and corrupt perjury.

Mr. S. C. Brown appeared to conduct the prosecution, and before calling witnesses briefly explained the nature of the charge. On the 19th March the estate of defendant was compulsorily sequestrated. His schedule was filed on the 7th April, showing assets at £4 or £5. Defendant was brought before the Commissioner on the 16th May, and was ordered to file a twelvemonth's account, in which he debited himself with the sum of £218, for which he professed to account, but a subsequent examination proved that, in point of fact, instead of having received only this amount, he had kept an account at the Bank of New South Wales, from which he drew £240 odd, and another account at the Commercial Bank, from which he drew immediately before the month of July £470; when he was asked about these sums at subsequent examinations he gave most contradictory accounts of how he disposed of the money, and it was upon the statements thus made that the charge of perjury was founded.

Archibald Thompson, sworn, deposed: The defendant is the person I refer to in my information; I was a creditor in his estate; he was a publican at Hill End, and my claim was for goods supplied to the amount of about £80.

Francis G. Austen, sworn, deposed: I am chief clerk in the Insolvent Court, and produce the order absolute sequestrating the estate of Alfred Schaefer; I produce schedule filed by and sworn to by insolvent before me; the defendant before the Court is the party who swore the affidavit; I produce affidavit of account filed by defendant on the 23rd May, purporting to be an account of all moneys received and expended by him during the previous twelve months.

Henry James Greville, second clerk in the Insolvent Court, deposed: I produce the examination of defendant, taken before his Honor on the 16th May, 9th June, and 23rd June; defendant was the person examined, and the depositions were signed by him; he was duly sworn on each occasion.

The examinations were read.

Frederick T. Humphery, sworn, deposed: I am official assignee in defendant's estate, but have obtained no assets; on the 23rd June I heard his examination, and on that day went with him to the Commercial Bank in George-street; we waited in the bank until the statement produced was prepared, which was shown to defendant.

Robert A. Nathan, clerk in the Commercial Bank, Sydney, deposed: Defendant had an account at our bank, which commenced on the 1st October, 1872, and terminated on 3rd February, 1873; the amount deposited was £290, and the last cheque was drawn on the 3rd February, 1873, for £150, in favour of "self;" I produce the account.

Mr. Brown applied for a remand, in order to secure the evidence of a witness from Hill End in reference to the drawing of the £470 in July.

The case was remanded until this day week. Bail allowed in one surety of £200 and two in £100 each.

SUMMONS SHEET.—There were thirty-one cases on the summons sheet. A number of persons were fined for breaches of the Corporation by-laws. The charge against Robert King for carrying on the business of a steamer of animals, at Miller's Point, for extracting the tallow, was adjourned for a week.

REPATRIATION OF KIDNAPPED ISLANDERS.

THE following correspondence has been laid before the Parliament of Victoria:—

Downing-street, 1st April, 1873.

Sir,—With reference to Lord Canterbury's despatch, No. 11, of 29th of January, I transmit to you, for your information, copies of correspondence with the Foreign Office and Admiralty on the subject of the repatriation of the kidnapped islanders, who were entrapped on board the Carl, and the offer made by the Government of Victoria to place the colonial steamer Victoria at the disposal of Commodore Stirling.

I have, &c.,
KIMBERLEY.

The officer administering the Government of Victoria.

(Copy.)

Mr. Hall to the Under Secretary of State, Foreign Office.

Admiralty, 20th March, 1873.

Sir,—I am commanded by my Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty to request you will inform Earl Granville that a copy of your letter of the 14th instant, relative to the islanders kidnapped by British subjects on board the Carl, and now at the Fijis, being sent back to their homes, has been forwarded to Commodore Stirling for his information and guidance, with directions to institute the necessary inquiries, and to arrange, if possible, for the return of the islanders. I am further to state, that a letter has also been received from the Colonial Office, dated the 18th March, forwarding copies of correspondence between the Governor of Victoria and Commodore Stirling on the same subject, with reference to the offer made of the steamer Victoria. 3. My Lords have not as yet received the same through the Commodore, but they presume copies will have been forwarded to the Foreign Office by the Colonial Office. 4. Lord Granville will perceive that this subject is already occupying the attention of the Commodore, but that great difficulty exists in successfully carrying out the object in view, especially in regard to ascertaining the precise spots to which the islanders belong; and further, that the Commodore is prepared to apply to the Victorian Government for assistance should he hereafter find it necessary to do so.

I am, &c.
ROBERT HALL.

The Under-Secretary of State, Foreign Office.

Mr. Hall to the Under-Secretary of State.

Admiralty, 20th March, 1873.

Sir,—With reference to your letter of the 18th instant, forwarding copies of correspondence which has taken place between the Governor of Victoria and Commodore Stirling on the subject of the islanders kidnapped by British subjects on board the Carl, and now at the Fijis, being sent to their homes, and referring to the offer made of the colonial vessel Victoria, to assist in that object, I am commanded by my Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty to transmit herewith, for the information of the Secretary of State for the Colonies, copy of a letter this day addressed to the Foreign Office on the subject.

I am, &c.,
(Signed) ROBERT HALL.

The Under-Secretary of State, Colonial Office.

Lord Enfield to the Secretary of the Admiralty.

Foreign Office, 8th March, 1873.

Sir,—I am directed by Earl Granville to request that you will state to the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty that his lordship has recently received a telegram from Mr. March, her Majesty's Consul for the Fijian Islands, dated from Sydney, reporting that on account of the impaired state of his health he had been compelled to leave his post at Levuka and to proceed to Australia, leaving a Mr. Mitchell in charge of her Majesty's consulate.

I am further to acquaint their lordships that as Mr. Layard, who has been appointed to succeed Mr. March, is now at Pera, in Brazil, and cannot in all probability reach his new post in less than six or eight months, and as, moreover, his lordship has no knowledge of Mr. Mitchell, and is not aware whether he is in all respects a fit person to be entrusted with the protection of British interests in the present disorganised state of affairs in the Fijis, Lord Granville would request that, under the circumstances, the senior naval officer on the Fijian Station may be instructed, pending the arrival of Mr. Layard at his post, and in the absence of any competent acting Consul, to make to the Fijian authorities such communications as may from time to time become necessary either in the interest of British subjects or with the view to remedy the abuses of kidnapping.

There are several such communications which it would be desirable should be made to the Fijian authorities at the present moment, rather than to await the arrival of Mr. March's successor.

In the first place their lordships are aware that a claim has been made on her Majesty's Government by the Fijian Executive, under an Act of the Fijian Government denominated the "Consul March Indemnity Act," for reimbursement of the expenses which they allege they have been put to in consequence of Mr. March's proceedings, ignoring the action of the Fijian Law Courts.

Copies of the Act in question, and of a letter from Mr. Thurston, the Fijian Minister for Foreign Relations, preferring this claim against her Majesty's Government, are annexed to this letter. These papers have been submitted for the consideration of the proper Law Officers of the Crown, who have advised that the Fijian authorities may properly be informed that her Majesty's Government does not admit the claim preferred by them, and I am accordingly to request that the papers relating to this claim may be communicated to the senior naval officer on the Fijian Station, with instructions to make a communication in the sense the law officers report to the Fijian Government.

Copies of two despatches from Mr. Consul March, dated the 3rd of September and 26th October last, are also enclosed, reporting the proceedings of the Fijian authorities in regard to the estates of two deceased British subjects named Thomas Muir and Thomas Warburton.

The Law Officers of the Crown have also been consulted in regard to the proceedings of the Fijian authorities in these two cases, and they have reported that the state of affairs in Fiji, and the conduct of the Fijian de facto Government in reference to British interests, as described by Mr. March in these two cases, have reached a period at which the protection of British interests her Majesty's Consul may claim the assistance of a man-of-war to obtain redress by; and the Law Officers have further stated their opinion that measures of a similar kind may properly be adopted by her Majesty's Consul in the event of circumstances again arising of a like kind.

Lord Granville is of opinion that it is desirable, not only in the interest of British interests but also of the Fijian Government itself, that the Fijian Executive should be made aware, with as little delay as possible, of the view taken by her Majesty's Government of their proceedings in the several cases alluded to in this letter, and it is under these circumstances, and in the absence of any other competent British authority in the Fijian Islands through whom an intimation could be made, that his lordship has recourse to the Admiralty in order that the necessary communications may be made to the Fijian Government. His lordship would suggest that the officer who may be deputed to carry out these instructions should, pending the arrival of a successor to Mr. March, who will receive full instructions for his guidance, confine himself for the present to making known to the Fijian authorities the views of her Majesty's Government on the several cases referred to in this letter, when it is to be hoped that they will take the requisite steps to remedy the grievance of which British subjects may have to complain, and to prevent a repetition of them.

I am, &c.,
(Signed) ENFIELD.

The Secretary to the Admiralty.

Lord Enfield to the Secretary to the Admiralty.

Foreign Office, 14th March, 1873.

Sir,—I am directed by Earl Granville to request that you will state to the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty that the Secretary of State for the Colonial Department has communicated to his lordship an extract of a despatch from the Governor of Victoria, giving cover to a correspondence which has passed between the Government and the Commodore commanding her Majesty's naval forces on the Australian station, on the subject of an offer made by the Victorian Government to the Commodore to place the colonial steamer Victoria at his disposal for the purpose of aiding in the extinction of the labour traffic, and of restoring to their homes the kidnapped natives who were entrapped on board the Carl.

It would appear from this correspondence, which is enclosed for their lordships' perusal in the event of their not having seen it, that Commodore Stirling, although deeply sensible of the nature of the offer made by the Victorian Government, did not think it desirable at the time to accept it, and Lord Granville does not doubt that the Commodore may have good and sufficient reasons for the decision taken by him in this matter; but I am to state that his Lordship considers that her Majesty's Government are morally bound to see that the unfortunate natives who were kidnapped by British subjects on board the Carl, have the means afforded them of returning to their homes if they should wish to do so; and I am accordingly to request that you will move their Lordships to inform Lord Granville whether they have received any report from the Commodore on the subject of this offer, or whether he had in contemplation other means of restoring these natives to their homes.

In the event of their Lordships not having received any information on the subject, I am to request that you will move their Lordships to instruct the Commodore to place himself in communication with the Fijian authorities and with the acting British Consul at Levuka, and to take such steps as he may deem advisable, after consultation with the above-mentioned authorities, for discovering and sending back to their homes such of the kidnapped natives as may be desirous of returning thither.

I am to add that Lord Granville feels compelled to make this appeal to the Admiralty, to repair, as far as it is possible to do so, the grave injustice done by British subjects towards these unfortunate natives, in the absence of any British or other trustworthy authority in the Fiji Islands to whom he could entrust the duty.

I have, &c.,

Dowling-street, 25th March, 1873.

Sir,—I have laid before the Earl of Kimberley your letter of the 16th instant, enclosing copies of letters which Earl Granville had caused to be addressed to the Admiralty respecting the state of affairs in the Fiji Islands.

Lord Kimberley entirely concurs in Lord Granville's opinion that her Majesty's Government are morally bound to provide, as far as lies in their power, for the return of the Islanders who were entrapped on board the Carl to their homes, and presumes that Lord Granville will agree with him in thinking that the steps taken for this purpose by the Commodore on the Australian station are sufficient.

THE PROSECUTION OF THE REV. MR. CURREY.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

SIR,—As it is my purpose to appeal to Parliament for an entire reversion of the sentence passed upon me by District Judge Meymott, at the Court of Quarter Sessions held at Grafton, February 17th, 1873, for an alleged violation of the Marriage Act, and to demand compensation for the injuries and severe loss thereby inflicted, on the ground that the whole proceedings against me on the part of the Registrar-General and of the Crown were illegal;—also, subsequently, to prosecute Bishop James F. Turner, in the Supreme Court, for his assumed revocation of my license as a clergyman of the Church of England—I should, as hitherto, have refrained from any public correspondence respecting the various issues affecting the case, Regina v. Currey, which has been made so disgracefully notorious by its self-evident injustice. But your correspondent, Charles Campbell, claiming official authority as Bishop Turner's "legal adviser," has in your columns repeated the intrinsically false assertions which he published last November in the Empire. This action, when every source of correct information was available to him, evidences a cause, which, perhaps, it would not be to his credit to explain. But as I know him not, and certainly have never injured him, why am I thus unscrupulously outraged? How can he as a professed gentleman and Christian pretend upon ridiculous ex parte statements to justify Episcopal conduct the whole country with indignation condemns, and in defence of which no special pleading or legal casuistry will avail. Let Bishop Turner defend himself, if he can, against charges so deeply affecting his honour as a man, I regard not the purity of his episcopal administration, as it is of comparative trifling moment. The grave importance of "Charles Campbell's" assertions, could they be proven, will I trust be accepted as justifying me in refuting them through your columns. He states that I am not a clergyman of the Church of England—that I had not been licensed—that I had consequently no rights and privileges to be maintained or vindicated, and therefore, that no oppression or cruelty had been inflicted upon me by Bishop Turner. To prove the worthlessness of these opinions, it is only necessary to enquire if I was not a "licensed" clergyman of the Church of England, how came I to have been registered as such for the celebration of marriages, both in Victoria and this colony since 1861? How could Bishop Turner revoke a license that did not exist? How could the Registrar-General remove my name from the registry, solely because my license had professedly been revoked? Would "Charles Campbell" wish the public to infer that I am a clerical adventurer, dependent upon the questionable and precarious patronage of a clerical bishop. What next?

The Crown Law Officers and the Registrar-General, according to the light they possess, rule that a license is a necessary condition for registration, this proposition (although proof positive of the unblemished correctness of my antecedents), I have ab initio, and do most unqualifiedly deny; the letter and spirit of the Marriage Act fully justifying me in so doing, as also the Registrar-General's right to remove my name from the registry, upon any mere episcopal dictum, as clearly shown in my letter of remonstrance to the Registrar-General, under date February 12, 1872. My action in celebrating the marriage on March 16 ult., was based upon a thorough knowledge of my legal and ecclesiastical status and rights, and my determination to maintain them against all innovation or infringement, knowing my ability to sustain my position. I have sought in every way, but in vain, for that statement of "due cause," for the assumed revocation of my licence, which honour, truth, and justice unquestionably demand. Failing this, I will compel proof in the most public manner, or else brand the sole author of the unparalleled and terrible indignity and outrage, inflicted upon me and my family, with an appropriate indelible stigma.

Much too long, a blind fulsome deference has been paid to ecclesiastical assumptions, which put true Christianity to the blush. It seems to me of supreme importance, that, in any discussion respecting episcopal powers, they should be defined and accepted as determined by the most enlightened investigation, and very necessary statutory enactments; for aggression has been ever its inherent characteristic. I regard the office as not divine, but prudential and changeable, and therefore the aphorism, "sine episcopos, nulla ecclesia," as but a conceit of the Latin Fathers, suited to growing aspirations of worldly ambition, by power and pomp.

Mr. Justice Dickinson, in his judgment in the case "The Rev. George King v. the Bishop of Sydney," states, "The Diocese of Sydney and the Bishop of the See have been respectively recognised in our colonial enactments; but such a Bishop, though appointed by the British monarch, and ordained and consecrated by an English Primate and Metropolitan, is not a Bishop of the Church Establishment, but a Bishop over Christian persons and congregations, in this portion of the Queen's dominions, who hold the same opinions on doctrine, ritual and Church government, as are entertained in England and Ireland, by the members of the Church as there by law established. He is a Bishop moreover here, over those only, who voluntarily submit to his jurisdiction." That jurisdiction is based upon and controlled by the statutory provisions of the Church, in her canons and articles, which repudiates that autocratic, irresponsible domination, which is so manifest in all Bishop Turner's conduct towards me, as strongly as it is condemned by justice and expediency. By his conduct, I have been compelled, in self-defence, to avail myself of the express provisions of the Marriage Act, and, notwithstanding Bishop Turner's letter to the Registrar-General (contrary to all precedent), to wit—"I sincerely trust that her Majesty's Executive (sic) will not grant him (i.e. myself) a license to marry," I have again been duly "registered" for the "celebration of marriages." The animus which dictated this precious episcopal letter is so sufficiently expressive as not to require comment.

My registration upon my own recognisance, as provided by the Marriage Act, has been compulsory, not alienatory or antagonistic, and does not change my former ecclesiastical status, or annul any of my rights and privileges previously held, they being unaffected unless by decision of the proper Court, not by any individual authority. As the designation of "Protestant Episcopal Church," adopted by me in registration, has caused some anxiety among my friends least I had determined upon secession, Independency, or Free Churchism, I would state that I hold a letter from the Right Rev. Dr. Barker, in answer to mine addressed to him as Metropolitan, respecting my colonial ecclesiastical status, in June, 1867. He states, "As a priest of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States of America, you are entitled to be received as in communion with, and to officiate upon the same terms upon which a clergyman of the Church of England would be employed." Therefore, having been recognized—been licensed, and employed for twelve (12) years, in the colonies, upon those terms, in virtue of letters dimissory from my American bishop to the bishops of the Church of England in the Australian colonies, I have yet to learn that my letter of orders as a priest of the P. E. Church renders it in any way necessary that I should hold or produce the same document from the sister Church of England. Surely, even "Charles Campbell" must know that the Pan-Anglican Synod fully recognised a perfect equality between the Churches mentioned. A letter of orders of the P. E. Church of the United States is in the colonies, as everywhere else, except as defined on the question of privilege by Act of Parliament in England alone, as valid, legal, and important as those from the English, Irish, Scotch, or any other Episcopal Church. As the designation of "Protestant" is of valuable and peculiar significance, in view of the Romanising tendencies and practice of certain bishops and clergy professedly of the Church of England, from which we have, and are so grievously suffering in this district, by the degradation and ruin of the Church, I prefer adhering to my own prized designation, which is worthy of, and I trust will be adopted, instead of Church of England. This designation is a misnomer, and satisfies but few, not even Bishop Turner, who states that he is not a Bishop of that Church, but "a Bishop of the purest branch of the Church of Christ in the colonies." Very modest; but what becomes of his letter of consecration? Why does not his Primate arraign him for misdemeanour? his offence being infinitely greater than anything alleged against me. So far as the Church or his diocese can be affected by this or any other eccentricity, I have no personal interest; but in a legal sense I would express my "opinion," that he has thus forfeited his right to the emoluments of his see, and that his acts as Bishop thereof will necessarily be invalid. But "Charles Campbell" states that I had not the Bishop of Grafton and Armidale's license with the seal duly impressed. As he had no legal status beyond the head of any denomination or corporation, and as Bishop Designate could only have issued a license sealed or unsealed provisionally, until he had been accepted by the Diocesan Synod. Being the duly appointed and legally recognised Parochial Incumbent and minister officiating, which could not have been the case, except by a virtual license, I did not, neither do I attach any importance (as would be the case with any one who had common sense) to the paper or parchment with or without the momentous seal, my position and authority being unaffected thereby. I, however, hold licenses from other colonial Bishops, with seals large enough to satisfy the most fastidious or microscopic mind, sufficient I trust for even Bishop Turner's "legal adviser."

Before I close this letter, allow me, Sir, to ask,—will you, as being like myself an "old colonist," (my youth having been spent in Sydney 'ere I in the spirit of true education I went on my travels to see the world, especially the United States of North America,) kindly inform me what necessity there is for the legal paraphernalia of "Chancellors, Advisers, Registrars," &c., in a disestablished Church, when no two of them can agree upon the simplest legal question? Other Denominations legally equal, and as widely effective and influential, are benefited by their non-existence. If no more reliable "opinions" can be given by them than lately paraded to the public in our local press, and in your columns by "Alexander Gordon," and "Charles Campbell," the sooner they are extinguished, the better it will be for the Church, and especially the clergy.

"I know you lawyers can with ease,
Twist words and meaning as you please."

By kindly publishing the above as an act of simple justice you will greatly oblige,

Your obedient servant,
CHARLES ROWLAND CURREY.

Grafton, June 18.

ST. ANDREW'S COLLEGE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

SIR,—May I request that you will oblige me still further by inserting in the Herald, as a postscript to my letter on St. Andrew's College, the accompanying copy of the opinion of Sir James Martin and Mr. Darley, which I submitted to his Excellency the Governor before the deed of incorporation was passed, but of which I had not obtained their permission to append a copy to my letter when I wrote to you.

I am, Sir, your most obedient servant,
JOHN DUNMORE LANG.

Sydney, July 4.

OPINION.

By sections 1, 3, 4, and 5 of the St. Andrew's College Incorporation Act, it is quite clear that there must be a Principal and twelve councillors elected before the Governor is justified in issuing the proclamation to incorporate. One of the facts to be notified in such proclamation is, that a "Principal and twelve councillors have been duly elected and appointed," and this notification is not to take place until the "Governor" is satisfied of such election and appointment.

Should the proclamation be so drawn up as not to contain a statement that a Principal and twelve councillors have been elected and appointed, it will be bad on the face of it; but if, contrary to the fact, it should contain that statement, then it can be falsified by affidavit. The proper course will be, after the proclamation issues, to apply for a writ of quo warranto against the Principal elect and one of the councillors, calling on them to show cause by what right they assume to act as members of the supposed corporate body. There must, of course, be some act done by the parties proceeded against showing that they have accepted the position of members of the corporate body. The application for the writ may be made by any subscriber to the College fund. No step can be taken in the Supreme Court to prevent the Governor issuing the proclamation—it must be dealt with there after it has been issued.

THE CORPORATION AND THE DOWNPIPE NUISANCE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

SIR,—As a landlord, I would like to know by what kind of reasoning the Corporation come to the conclusion that the tenant is the right person to summons for the above, and not the owner. It does appear to me a most senseless thing that a tenant, respectable and paying their rent regularly, should be dragged before a Court to answer the following charge—for that you, so-and-so, did, on a certain day, allow water from a certain pipe to flow on to the footway, &c. How, in the name of common sense, is it possible for a tenant to prevent this? It will be necessary in future for a tenant before taking a house, to see that the down pipes are all connected with the kerb. I think the Mayor might, before signing these formidable documents, at least ascertain whether the owner of the premises had received notice. I am sure most, if not all, owners of house property would, if spoken to by the official, have the thing attended to at once. I have had two cases of this kind within the last fortnight for small houses in lanes where the footway is about three feet wide, while I have passed for years houses in the principal streets with the water from those pipes flowing on paved and unpaved footpaths.

MINING NEWS.

GOLD.

IN speaking of the Yulgilbar quartz reefs, the correspondent of the Clarence Examiner writes:—"The late heavy rains we had here made everything so quiet that it was out of the question to send reports of any kind to the papers; the greater part of the claims were at a standstill through water in the workings; in fact, it was water everywhere, but now the weather seems to have cleared up, and we may look forward to some pleasant dry months. The different claims are again at work, and the result was sundry bucketfuls of rich specimens out of several holdings. No. 4 North Garibaldi has for the past three days shown some more of their rich stone, equally as good as the stuff they took to Sydney to be crushed at the Mint; what this lot turned out you have heard ere now, but I believe it is not generally known that there was a discrepancy in the weight of the stone, which at the Mint only turned out to be some 16¼ cwt., instead of 18 cwt., as reported; the rate at per ton would, therefore, be about 543 ounces. This is not bad, and as they are at work again amongst their rich stuff, the claims will turn out, no doubt, a splendid fortune for the lucky holders. The Band of Hope.—Robinson and party—have some very good gold, and if they can make satisfactory arrangements, they will commence crushing at once, as they have a good quantity of stone on grass. The No. 1 North Band of Hope Tribute Company will commence crushing in about eight days out of their upper level; they have repeatedly seen good gold in the stone, although they have no rich specimens to show, but the gold seems well distributed through the stone. They are over 100 feet in the lower level now, but the rock is very hard, and it will take them some little time before they cut the reef in that tunnel, but they will commence crushing at once, and will be getting stone out of the upper level in the meantime. No. 3 North Garibaldi are on a splendid lead of gold, equally as rich as No. 4 stone; they are about fifteen feet lower down than their neighbours in No. 4. Davidson and party have some time ago taken up a piece of ground on Ewingar Creek for ground sluicing; they are going to some expense to work the ground, cutting races, erecting waterwheel for pumping, and I believe they they are very sanguine as to the results; the prospects are very encouraging, and if they succeed as they anticipate, a few more parties will soon follow. No. 7 South Garibaldi have commenced to work again; they are down about eighty feet, and are on a splendid lead of rich gold; they have a good lot of rich specimens on hand, but I cannot exactly say what quantity. No. 10 South Garibaldi—Bawden and party—will re-commence working on Monday next, and as they struck some good gold just when they left off, some three months ago, you may shortly expect some good reports about that claim."

A new brigantine arrived on Thursday from the Manning River, where she was built by Mr. James M'Donald, expressly for the intercolonial trade. She is a beautiful model, and judging from her fine lines she ought to prove a clipper. Her dimensions are, keel 86 feet, beam 26 feet, and depth of hold 9 feet 6. She measures 105 feet overall, and will carry 206 tons dead weight on a draught of 9 feet 6. She is built entirely of colonial hardwood, and is coppered and copper fastened up to the loadline. In fact, no money has been spared to turn out a first-class vessel. The whole of her standing rigging is wire, and her cabin will accommodate 6 persons. She has been named the Lady Robinson, by express permission of her ladyship.

The clipper ship Wildwood having been released from the Fitzroy Dock, has been taken alongside Cuthbert's wharf to complete her re-coppering, and to accomplish other repairs.

H.M.S. Basilisk will be docked to-day for the purpose of sighting her bottom.

A sculler's race will take place this afternoon, between Messrs. Bullivant and Sullivan, for £10 aside; the course being from Pyrmont bridge round Goat Island and back.

CAUTION.
The Directors having learnt that SPURIOUS OIL of inferior quality has been sold for the Company's "COMET" OIL, and that the method employed for that purpose has been the use of second-hand cases of "Comet oil" brand, with second-hand tins of various brands (sometimes "Comet oil" tins), beg to caution the public that the genuine "Comet oil" is

The public are requested to ask not simply for Colonial oil, but for the Company's "COMET OIL," and satisfy themselves that they obtain it with THE COMPANY'S BRAND, and IN NEW PACKAGES—as any oil offered as "Comet oil" packed otherwise is SPURIOUS.

SATURDAY, JULY 5, 1873.

THE great number of cases of real or apparent infanticide that have been reported in this journal during several years past seems to require serious attention. Since the beginning of this year six children have been found in various parts of this city and its suburbs, exposed and dead. A seventh was found in an apparently dying state, the neck being surrounded by a silken ligature. This was a case of a deliberate attempt to murder. Seven children have, therefore, to be numbered in six months, or at the rate of fourteen during the year, whose lives neglect or violence may be supposed to have endangered or destroyed. Such numbers seem to intimate that we are fast advancing to the condition imputed by the Coroner of London, who startled the nation by declaring that infanticide was an awfully common and increasing crime. The non-discovery of the parties by whom such violence is perpetrated is one of the noticeable symptoms of a dangerous tendency. It is possible, indeed, that some of these infants have died from natural causes, and that in others death has ensued from neglect, culpable indeed, but not legally criminal. The loss of infant life is of daily occurrence. Its proverbial frailty is proved by every report of vital statistics. The multitudes who occupy the little graves in every churchyard attest the uncertainty which attends its preservation.

The great institutions which have been established in many foreign countries, and some that exist in England itself, show that the exposure of children is only prevented by special precautions. There have been in many continental cities places where an infant child could be deposited without avowing its origin, and where these orphans have received the attention of women devoted to this purpose. There can be no doubt that, whatever evils may be traceable to this practice, it has saved the lives of many who would otherwise have suffered from unnatural violence. But there are few things more deplorable than the statistics of orphan asylums. The number who perish for want of natural support and from the diseases which are generated by crowded institutions leave it very uncertain that anything is gained save the moral utility of preserving a life doomed by parental desertion. The practice in many continental States of deserting a mother's duty and of putting out to hired nurses those who have only a mercenary interest in the safety of a child, has seriously imperilled infant life. Some of the statistics which are published in these countries show the probability of a sacrifice in reality greater than what we may infer from the sad examples of this city. Still the turpitude of deliberate infanticide is worse in its effects than the loss of individual lives. It augurs the growth of an unnatural habit which tends to dull the sensibilities of the lower classes of the population. It presents to their minds a remedy to the inconvenience and self-sacrifice necessary to preserve the lives of children. The examples of maternal tenderness shown everywhere in the endurance and toil of motherhood are a precious possession, and the very basis of that social elevation which has given the human character durable affections. The sacrifice of infant life has been supposed to result in a great measure from the penalty which society exacts for illegitimacy. This, however, is not upon the whole very apparent. A few cases occur from infanticide which may be attributable to this cause, but the crime prevails where illegitimacy is extremely common. The family life which preserves a sense of relationship is the great check to the neglect of its duties; and we find that where the crime is common, it results far less from a sense of degradation than from that indifference which is produced by promiscuous connections. The great proportion of children who are thrown by the accidents of society on public support is a serious burden, and one that cannot at present be diminished. In colonies the weight of this item is increased by the isolation resulting from the change of abode, as well as by the want of that sense of responsibility which grows up where family life is in its normal state. It is aggravated in older countries by the poverty of masses of the people, and also by the scattering tendency of an emigrating epoch. We must therefore reckon upon the increase rather than diminution of the number of destitute children. The subject, however, requires a very constant scrutiny and a vigilant repression of criminal tendencies. It may, perhaps, be doubted whether, upon the whole, any benefit arises from capital prosecutions. The cases are few where the direct violence can be brought home, and where there is no possibility of those extenuations which even violence does not disprove. In cases where the physical disturbance of the moral nature results from causes half natural and half criminal the penalties of crime can be rarely apportioned with confidence. Thus in England the punishment of infanticide is as rare as its perpetration is frequent. If the Coroner of London was a true expositor of the state of facts, he showed how utterly helpless was the law for the repression of this crime. It is probable, however, that a punishment much lower than death would be more effectual; and that a disposition to discover and pursue the criminal would be more decided if it were not supposed to compromise the life of the guilty. The definitions of law with respect to the conditions of infant life are probably very arbitrary in many cases; and yet upon these are made to depend the nature of the crime imputed and its consequent liability to punishment. This may be no reason at all for allowing impunity for practices which imperil the title to existence in an infant unborn, but seems to render of little avail the capital punishments which depend upon obscure rules, and which, excepting in deliberate murder, are eluded by the humanity or ignorance of witnesses. In one of the last numbers of the Illustrated London News we observe a building erected as a receptacle for the infant dead in China. It is supposed to be also an evidence of the practice of infanticide. The imputation is partly supported by the known opinions of the Chinese, and indeed of most heathen nations. They make a distinction between the liability of parents. The most powerful of human affections are those which bind the mother to her child, sustained in former ages by the more absolute obligation of the son to his mother. We are not to imagine that the sentiment is dead because it is not universally felt. The noblest emotions of the human heart may be absent or may be extinguished, and they are not to be interpreted by any social system. One of the most striking examples in Holy Writ is recorded in the famous judgment of SOLOMON, which presents the distinct character which may be exemplified in various natures, and where the poor mother yearned more for the life than for the possession of her son. The same universal interpreter of human nature speaks of a terrible possibility which contravenes a universal law. Can a woman forget her sucking child that she should not have compassion on it? She may forget it.

ALTHOUGH the Parliament of Victoria was not consulted as to the new contract for the Suez service, the Assembly has had an opportunity, thanks to one of the independent members, of discussing its policy. The Government, not caring to take the vote on the abstract merits of the case, made the division a test of confidence, notwithstanding the earnest protest of the mover, that he had no political object in view, and merely wished to discuss important issues of principle and policy. A large majority was, of course, easily obtained; but the statements made during the debate are of more importance than the votes numbered at its close.

The subsidy asked by the company in the first instance appears to have been £100,000, Mr. FRANCIS on his side tendering £80,000. Assuming the latter proposal to have been bona fide, and there is every reason to suppose that it was, it represents the conviction of Mr. FRANCIS that that amount was sufficient. And there is good reason for thinking that in this he was right. Had there been time to bring to bear the influence of extended competition, this amount would not have been exceeded. But the Government was in a great hurry to close the bargain before New South Wales could have a chance to do the same thing. Mr. MICHIE's telegram represented the urgency of the case, and Mr. FRANCIS thought it better to sacrifice money than to lose his chance. It is admitted too that the directors of the company, like shrewd commercial men, took a full and, on commercial principles, a not unfair advantage of Mr. FRANCIS's eagerness. As he was not at liberty to run about to find competitors, they had him cornered. They could name a price, and pin him to it. They refused to take a shilling less than £90,000. Indeed it really seems as if they might have pressed their advantage further, for if they had stuck to their first figure, and insisted on £100,000 the probability is that he would have accepted it rather than have kept the negotiations open for another week. It stands confessed therefore, that while £80,000 is enough for a contract extending over six years, the extra £10,000 simply represents the price to be paid for Victorian supremacy. With a full knowledge of this fact, Mr. FRANCIS asks New South Wales to contribute pro rata towards this unnecessary expenditure—which, to speak mildly, is modest. Even had the contract been made on the lowest possible terms, it has been made in a way and under circumstances deliberately and designedly intended to depreciate the maritime position of Sydney. To expect a cordial support from Sydney was certainly to expect a very great deal, and when to this is added the fact that the subsidy is unnecessarily large, the appeal becomes more characteristic. The contributing colonies of Tasmania and South Australia, though not otherwise injured, will have to pay towards the unnecessary part of the subsidy, and they might fairly claim that Victoria should pay this extra cost itself, seeing that they are in no way interested in its maritime ambition.

The members of the Government and its supporters laid a great deal of stress upon prestige. They argued that it was anything but an imaginary advantage—that it gave a position of dignity and importance in the eyes of the world, and one which brought many solid advantages in its train—that to be a terminal port gave this prestige, and that it was a thing well worth paying for. Perhaps so; but the argument if sound furnishes the strongest possible reason why Victoria itself should pay the extra cost of winning this prestige, and not tax its neighbours for the purpose of humbling them. It will be scarcely satisfactory for Sir HENRY AYERS and Mr. BARROW to explain to the South Australian Parliament that they must vote a little more than is really necessary, because the tributary colonies are expected to pay not only for a mail service, but for the cost of building up the reputation of Melbourne as a port. We have considerable doubts, however, whether in this particular case the prestige will follow to the extent anticipated. The port that naturally and legitimately draws to itself a large commerce and becomes a focus of trade, does in virtue of that fact acquire a corresponding status. But simply to pay steamers to lie idly at anchor when the owners would gladly be sending them away, does not bring much renown. If it did, why not hire a whole superannuated fleet, and glory in the magnificence of a "rotten-row." The Melbourne Government has not only admitted in the strongest possible way that if it did not stringently bind the steamers to anchor they would be off, but the contractors have practically admitted the same thing. The fact that they are going to put on a spare steamer, and run it to Sydney without any subsidy at all, is a sufficient demonstration that they have nothing to gain by allowing the vessel that brings the mails to remain idle in Hobson's Bay. The Government has been fighting against nature—resisting the natural play of the laws of free trade, and has therefore had to bind the contractors over to do what they would willingly leave undone, and to leave undone what they would willingly do. It is a bit of forced and artificial protection, and to represent the arrangement as in the interest of the colonies generally is, therefore, wide of the facts. It has been a successful attempt to sacrifice Australasia to Victoria, but the success of a coup d'état leaves it a coup d'état still.

The Government met very jauntily the objection that its action had been unfederal in its spirit, and would be antifederal in its results. Federation, it was replied, would be a very good thing if it were consistent with the interests of Victoria, but not otherwise; and as the interests of Victoria mean the dominance of Victoria, this doctrine would, in the estimation of all non-Victorians, probably be considered as tantamount to saying that federation is unsuited to Australia. Indeed, the alienation caused between New South Wales and Victoria was spoken of as rather a good thing than otherwise, inasmuch as it simply represented a crisis which had inevitably to be passed through. The elder colony was compassionately spoken of as being destined to undergo the humiliation of seeing the commercial sceptre pass to a younger rival; and, perhaps, the sooner the pang was got over the better. It was stated candidly that federation was impossible so long as there was the existing degree of equality between New South Wales and Victoria. It was not enough for the latter to be primus inter pares—it must be indisputably supreme. These statements were candid, and teach us what we may expect, but they show that notwithstanding the Select Committees and Reports which Victoria has devoted to federation, it is itself the one great obstacle thereto. A federation of political equals is intelligible, but a federation of satellites and a central sun will not so readily commend itself to the judgment and affections of the outer colonies.

A MUNICIPALITY DISFRANCHISED.—Seldom has a municipality been brought to a more thorough deadlock than that in which the Corporation of Parramatta now finds itself. In February last there were two candidates for the mayoralty, but when the election meeting came on there was no return of either; there being twelve aldermen in the municipality and the voting being equally divided. Meeting followed meeting, but without result, until at length in the month of April one of the aldermen (Mr. Williams) died; whereupon the six of the unbroken party returned their candidate, Mr. Hugh Taylor, who was duly declared Mayor of Parramatta. After about two months of office a rule nisi for an order in the nature of a quo warranto to oust him therefrom was applied for and granted by the Supreme Court. This was argued yesterday, and the result was that the order was made as sought, the ground being that the election meeting had not been held within a week after the annual aldermanic election in the month of February, as provided by the 42nd section of the Municipalities Act. The immediate result of this, namely the ousting of the Mayor, and the consequent disqualification for the chair of all the Aldermen would seem to be unpleasant enough; but the matter goes further. There being no head to the Municipality it becomes wholly inoperative; all its functions are suspended, no rates can be collected, and no corporation work carried on. The gentleman now ejected having been illegally in office all his official acts have been illegal. He presided as Returning-officer ex-officio at the election to fill the vacancy occasioned by Mr. Williams' death; consequently such election becomes null and void, and the gentleman elected (Mr. Ritchie) loses his seat. It is clear that there can be no Mayor until the month of February next after the annual aldermanic election. But the Mayor is ex-officio the Returning-officer of such election; his conduct in that capacity at the regular annual election, being expressly under the statute, the last act of his official life. Consequently there can be no election: and thus the result is a simple though rather startling one. The Corporation of Parramatta has ceased to exist! And thus affairs must apparently remain until relief is afforded by the Legislature.

BLUE BOOK FOR 1872.—This valuable record of the Civil Service and the Government departments has just been issued from the Government Printing Office. As may naturally be supposed, it continues to increase in bulk as New South Wales increases in importance. The volume for 1873 contains 104 large pages of closely printed matter. The contents comprise information, and full figures where necessary, regarding Parliaments, Ministries, and Civil and Ecclesiastical establishments.

VISIT TO DARLINGHURST GAOL.—The Hon. Thomas Reynolds, Commissioner of Crown Lands and Immigration, of South Australia, visited the gaol at Darlinghurst on Wednesday last. He was accompanied by the Hon. Colonial Secretary (Mr. Parkes). The party was conducted throughout the buildings by Mr. Read, the Governor of the Gaol. The workshops, yards, &c., were inspected by the visitors. Before leaving, Mr. Reynolds expressed his satisfaction at the appearance and discipline of the large establishment; and on leaving made an entry in the visitors' record that he had been very much gratified at the system observed in conducting the institution, and that he considered it well worthy of imitation.

INFANTICIDE.—Since the beginning of 1873, six children have been found in various parts of the city and suburbs exposed and dead; some of these bore marks of injury. In only two cases, owing to the advance of decomposition, did juries feel themselves justified in returning verdicts of child murder. The six cases for 1873 do not include the newly-born child found on Monday evening last exposed on the Racecourse and still alive. In 1872, two verdicts of child murder were returned, and in one of these instances the mother was committed from the Coroner's Court, and convicted at a higher tribunal. In 1871, the number of cases of infanticide within the police district of Sydney, to which the whole of the figures quoted solely refer, was five, and one woman was discovered and committed. In 1870 there were two verdicts of infanticide, and two committals. Three children, however, were found exposed in that year. The number of cases of infanticide does not comprise the whole of children found, as in some cases it is impossible to say whether the child had been brought fully alive into the world or not. In 1869, five newly-born children were found dead; but in no single instance did a jury feel themselves justified in returning a verdict of child murder. In 1868 there were two cases of infanticide, and one woman was convicted. In reference to the newly-born infant found on Monday last, there had evidently been a deliberate attempt to murder; a silken cord having been passed thrice round the neck, drawn tightly, and tied. When found the infant was being suffocated and foaming at the mouth, but recovered when the ligature was uncut. Towards the latter end of 1868 a medical herbalist was convicted for procuring abortion. Prisoner was sentenced to seven years' hard labour in gaol.

CAPTAIN COOK'S STATUE COMMITTEE.—Yesterday afternoon a meeting of this committee was held in the Chambers of the Chief Justice, Supreme Court, Sir Alfred Stephen presiding. Mr. R. B. Smith, M.L.A. (hon. secretary), reported that on the 19th of December last, a deputation consisting of Sir Alfred Stephen, the late Sir Terence Aubrey Murray, Mr. Alexander Campbell, the Rev. Dr. Lang, Alderman Day, Captain Watson, Messrs. John Alger, F. Senior, S. Baylis, and himself waited on the Colonial Secretary, urging him to place a sum of money on the Estimates, for the completion of the statue of Captain Cook, and that he consented to place the sum of £2000 on the next Estimates for this purpose, which sum would include all further cost for the construction of the statue. Alderman Day, the treasurer, reported the receipt of £53 4s. 11d., from Mr. Peter Curtis, being the net proceeds of the late Parliamentary Cricket Match. He stated that the amount to the credit of the statue fund was £191 18s. 7d. It was resolved that as nearly £200 was in hand, and that only £2060 was required to complete the statue, that the Colonial Secretary be informed that it would not be necessary to place more than £1890 on the estimates for the purpose. It was resolved that Sir Alfred Stephen, and Alderman Day, be appointed a sub-committee to make arrangements for the completion of the inscription on the pedestal. The meeting then adjourned.

QUALIFICATION FOR ALDERMAN.—On further investigation we find that on reference to the qualification for alderman, it was decided before the full Court at Sydney, on the 13th March, 1870, in the case ex parte Hirst, "That no person can be legally nominated as alderman of any ward whereof he is not himself an elector."

PRIMARY SCHOOLS EXHIBITION.—This highly interesting exhibition of the results of manual dexterity and of the more useful accomplishments of young people who attend our Public schools, is to be closed to-day. The school prizes have been already awarded, but this day will be chosen for the handing over of the general prizes.

THE LATE COLLISION IN THE HARBOUR.—The body of the old man named Jones, a seller of brooms and clothes poles about the streets of Sydney, and who was supposed to have been drowned on the 26th ultimo, by a collision between the Woniora (s.) and his boat, on the Parramatta River, between Ball's Head and Goat Island, has been recovered, and now lies at the Deadhouse, Circular Quay. An inquest will probably be commenced this forenoon before the City Coroner, at the Observer Tavern.

THE STUDENTS' PIANO.—A miniature instrument bearing this name has been recently added to the list of those made by Chappelle and Co., of London, and two of them are now on view at Messrs. Moss and Son's, Hunter-street. They are five octaves in compass, plain in appearance, but of excellent workmanship and full tone. The makers have sought to supply a good piano rather than an expensive one; in fact, one that almost every student could afford to procure.

MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE.—The disappearance of a German named Frederick Poler, under somewhat singular circumstances, has been reported to the police authorities. From the statements made, it appears that in the latter part of March, or the beginning of April, Poler arrived in Sydney from Townsville. He was a boot and shoemaker, and soon after his arrival here he obtained work at Mr. P. Maddens, Cumberland-street. He worked there for eight or nine weeks, and then made an engagement with his former employer at Townsville to return to him. He had between £30 and £40 in the bank, which he drew out a few days before he intended to leave Sydney. The steamer he was to have gone by left Sydney on the 4th June. On Sunday the 1st ultimo, in company with a friend, he went to Manly Beach. This friend states that they came back in the evening, and parted at the corner of George and Market streets. Poler has not since been heard of, although the police and others have searched for him everywhere. He was a comparative stranger in Sydney. The person for whom he was engaged to work at Townsville has been communicated with, but has neither heard nor seen anything of the man.

CHRIST CHURCH MUTUAL IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION.—This society held their usual weekly meeting in the classroom, Christ Church School, on Thursday evening last, the Rev. Canon Vidal in the chair. After the minutes of the previous meeting had been signed, the first number of the society's manuscript serial, the "Christ Church Olio," was brought forward and read by the editor, Mr. W. A. Nelson. The merits of the different articles were discussed by Messrs. Rowell, James Cornwell, Graham, Winchcombe, Nelson, and the chairman.

ST. JOHN'S SCHOOL, DARLINGHURST.—There was opened, on Thursday evening last, in the above school, a bazaar, the object of which was to collect funds to defray the cost of its enlargement. The stalls were well supplied with woolwork and embroidery of various kinds; many varieties of fancy wares and requisites for the toilet. The assiduity and business-like perseverance of the fair stallholders, have been successful in raising a considerable proportion of the sum required. The bazaar is open from 3 to 9 p.m. every day.

SEED AND PLANT CATALOGUE.—We have received from Messrs. Anderson, Hall, and Co., successors to Law, Somner, and Co., a list of plants published in pamphlet form, and bearing the above designation. The catalogue—a very comprehensive one—is illustrated with a number of excellent woodcuts of fruits, grasses, bulbs, and flowers. It has been neatly printed by Gibbs, Shallard, and Co.

REOPENING OF ST. MARY'S CHURCH, SOUTH CREEK.—This church was reopened on Sunday, 29th June, after having been closed for about two months, during which period some extensive repairs and alterations have been made, and the church has been completely refurnished. The old unsightly pews have given place to comfortable modern open seats, giving a far more cheerful aspect to the church; a new pulpit and reading-desk have been provided, and the appearance of the building has been further considerably improved by the erection (in the chancel) of a stained glass window—"in memory of Mary Lethbridge," one of the original founders of the church. Increased accommodation for eighty persons has been provided, by placing all along the aisle rows of new seats. The Metropolitan Bishop of Sydney, who was to have been present at the ceremony, was unable to attend, in consequence of the reopening having been postponed; in his absence the Incumbent, the Rev. John Vaughan, preached from Psalm xx., and 5th verse, to a crowded congregation. The total cost of the improvements, &c., was £320, and this amount, with the exception of a few pounds, has also been collected—a result mainly attributable to the zeal and perseverance of the incumbent.

IMMIGRATION.—A correspondent writes:—"In a Treasury note, dated June 13, the public is informed that 'forms of application, as well as all other information for the guidance of depositors, can be obtained at the office of the Agent for Immigration;' but there must be some mistake, as I have called, as directed, and could obtain no information whatever, except that the Agent himself has not been yet furnished with instructions. If something is not done immediately, it will be impossible to send home nominations, &c., by the next outgoing mail; and a whole month will, accordingly, be lost."

SINKING OF THE PONTOON BRIDGE AT ECHUCA.—We learn from the Riverine Herald that Hopwood's pontoon bridge, which in its time has done such good service, was sunk, we regret to say, on Monday. The accident happened, we learn, in the absence of "Charlie," the man in charge, and according to his statement was, to a great extent, if not altogether, due to carelessness and undue haste on the part of certain sheep-drovers. A flock of James's sheep, from the Alma station, were about crossing and were rushed, so he says, on the pontoons without waiting for the pets to lead them. From some cause or another, however—whether carelessness or sheer accident we cannot say—the sheep blocked in the centre of the bridge, and could not be moved until the concentrated weight brought about the disaster. Only five of the flock were drowned, but the real sufferer will be Mrs. Leonard. The pontoons were of iron, and their recovery, until the river is again at summer level, is somewhat problematical. The people of Echuca and Moama are urging on the Governments of either colony the necessity for commencing the contemplated bridge without delay; and we should think this occurrence will tend to hasten a decision in the matter. Apropos of this, we observe that the following resolution has been passed by the Council of the Railway Association:—"That the hon. secretary be directed to write to Mr. William Hay, M.P., asking him to urge on the honourable the Premier the necessity of coming to terms with the Victorian Government for commencing immediately the bridge over the Murray between Moama and Echuca."

COLONIAL MAIZE.—The Indian corn is likely to become an ornamental as well as a useful article of food. The Queanbeyan Age states that several cobs of maize have been sent to the office of the most beautiful and exquisite markings and colours. They were gathered from a crop grown at Gungarline. Altogether there are six cobs, which, to say nothing of their colours, are beautifully even in the regularity and perfection of the rows of grain they contain. Their markings, however, are their principal charm. Three are mahogany colour, each of a very distinct shade from the others; one is spotted with red coral-like grain and black grain; one, chesnut colour; another, orange; another possesses grains white and yellow, with a few dark-coloured grains intermixed; another has white and yellow grains, with others pink and purplish intermixed; but the two remaining ones exceed by far all the previously described in the beauty of their markings; one of them is of an orange ground, and the other of a pale yellow, both being exquisitely marbled with blood-red streaks.

CHIARINI'S CIRCUS.—This place of amusement is still the great attraction for those who are fond of equestrian and acrobatic feats; and on Wednesday afternoon a large number of school children attended to witness the entertainment given for their especial edification. To-day, there will be another afternoon performance, commencing at 2 o'clock.

VICTORIA THEATRE.—Notwithstanding the counter attraction offered by the Circus, the performances at the Victoria Theatre have been well patronised, and Miss Bowring's popularity continues undiminished. On Monday evening the fine old comedy of "School for Scandal" was produced, with Miss Bowring as Lady Teazle, and Mr. James Carden as James Surface. On the following night "Love's Sacrifice" was given, and on Wednesday a crowded audience assembled to witness the repetition of the drama of "East Lynne." Miss Bowring's Lady Isabel being, as usual, very impressive. The last scene, in which the misguided wife dies in the home of her wronged husband, was in the highest degree affecting, and had a visible effect upon the majority of the audience. On Thursday a benefit was given to Mr. S. H. Banks, who appeared as William Tell, to a fair house. To-night "East Lynne" will be repeated, and on Monday the tragedy of "Macbeth" will be produced.

GOURLAY'S EXHIBITION.—The opportunity offered to the public by the Gourlay family for a quiet evening's amusement has been taken advantage of by a large number of persons during the past few days, and the entertainment is so excellent and varied in its character that, to many persons, one visit does not suffice. A novelty in the shape of a hawthorn tree in full blossom, with birds moving about in the branches, has been added, and will doubtless prove attractive. An excellent view of Bondi bridge, painted by Mr. W. J. Wilson, is also on view.

MONA PICTURE GALLERY.—To-day being the first Saturday in the month, the Mona Picture Gallery will be open.

SPENCER'S EXHIBITION.—Mr. Spencer's mechanical ingenuity has added another attraction to his Exhibition in the shape of a large working model of vessels at sea. This exhibit, which was constructed by Mr. Spencer during leisure hours, is one of the most artistic of the kind ever seen in Sydney. It represents a full-rigged merchantman under full sail running before the wind, and several cutter yachts on a wind, with a steamer in company. The vessels are complete even to the most minute details. The wheels of the steamer revolve as she rises and falls on the swell of the sea, and the captain moves across the bridge on the look-out. The position of the ship and yachts is natural, in view of the points upon which they are sailing, and the moving sea is also well done. An excellent effect is obtained by placing a mirror on each side of the show case by which the picture is reproduced and multiplied until a perfect fleet of vessels, extending from one end of the room to the other, can be seen, giving a very picturesque effect. An excellent painting representing the model is exhibited outside Mr. Spencer's; it is the work of Mr. Jordan, of King-street.

QUEENSCLIFF.

FRIDAY.

ARRIVED.—Coorong (s.) and Alexandra (s.), from Adelaide.

SAILED.—Pioneer, schooner, for Brisbane.

HOBART TOWN.

[VIA MELBOURNE.]

FRIDAY.

The Government have been obliged to withdraw their Customs Bill in its printed form.

The Treasurer submitted a printed account explanatory of the financial statement, and which was quite different from his Budget speech.

The Assembly is now discussing a motion of want of confidence, and it is expected that the Government will be defeated.

MAURITIUS.

[VIA MELBOURNE.]

The Oriental, from Mauritius, brings dates to 30th May. Only 10,000 bags grey syrup are left in the colony, and only a very small quantity of yellows and whites are in second hands. Prices nominal.

ADELAIDE.

FRIDAY.

Wheat is quoted at 6s. 2d. to 6s. 3d.; flour is firm at £13 15s. to £14 10s.

A telegram from Port Darwin states that the companies have landed their machinery at Southport, and that the telegraph line has been carried to that place, and an office opened.

A new discovery of gold has been made at what is called the "Cosmopolitan," at Howley Creek. The claim is reported to be rich.

Breadstuffs easy, and the market unchanged.

There have been floods to-day, which have done slight damage.

DESTRUCTION OF WILD HORSES.—The Wagga Express states that another muster of wild horses has recently been made upon Messrs. Devlin's Ganmain run, and some 293 yarded. With the exception of about twenty, the throats of all were cut, and two men were employed skinning the dead animals, doing between them at the rate of 40 per day, each skin being worth in the present state of the hide market about 14s. This mob will raise the total number of wild horses destroyed on the Ganmain run during the past twelve months to nearly 1000. It is unnecessary to draw attention to the amount of grass destroyed by such large herds of useless brutes, which may be readily imagined. The extermination of them, as a matter of course, will considerably increase the carrying capabilities of the country, and will at the same time prove sufficiently remunerative to enable squatters to carry it on without loss.

THE BUNYIP AGAIN.—In the Lower Lachlan the bunyip has come to the rescue. A correspondent of the Wagga Wagga Express states that this animal has again been seen twice within the last three months in the waters of Cowel Lake in March last, by a party of surveyors, whose account can be relied upon, who were out in a boat and saw the animal about 150 yards off. They describe it to have a head something resembling a human being, or, in their own words, "like an old man blackfellow with long dark coloured hair." When seen it appeared to be going in a straight direction rising out of the water so that they could see its shoulders, and then diving as if in the chase of fish, and rising again at intervals of about six or eight yards, and rising again. They tried to get closer to it, but could not, for the pace it was going, consequently, could give no description of it lower than the shoulders. They say the animal did not appear to be afraid of them. But in my opinion it must have been so intent upon its occupation that it never noticed them. Another, a blackfellow and a white man, who were out in canoe, say they saw it about a fortnight since. They agree in giving the same description of the head and hair as that given by the surveyors. The animal was swimming straight towards them, and when it saw them dived and disappeared.

PRODIGIOUS YIELD OF POTATOES.—Mr. William Sullivan (says the Queanbeyan Age) dug in his paddock at Canberra a few days ago, a single root of potato, which yielded thirty-six separate tubers, the smallest of which weighed 16 oz., the total weight of the yield being 67 lbs. The seed was of the variety known as the Black Derwent. This result furnishes an argument in favour of the system of wide planting versus the common plan pursued in the cultivation of potatoes. This remarkable root was planted by itself, and seems to confirm the theory that if potatoes are set one to the square yard, the yield will be far more remunerative than when set in rows of 12 or 15 inches apart.

MR. TROLLOPE AND THE INTEGRITY OF THE EMPIRE.—In a review on Mr. Trollope's work, "Australia and New Zealand," the Spectator of the 10th May observes—"What his views as to the connection were when he went to Australia we know not; but he has returned with a firm conviction that it is the duty of statesmen, both in England and at the Antipodes, to prepare gradually for separation, first by enabling the colonies to form a Customs' Union, then a Confederation, and then a second edition of the United States. Mr. Trollope's main argument on the subject seems to us to be a sort of fetish of 'manifest destiny.' 'Does anybody believe,' he asks, 'that a population of twenty millions in Australia would remain subject to a population of forty millions in the British Isles?' It may be submitted that the population of Australia is not in any sense subject to the population of the United Kingdom. It is composed of self-governing communities, administering their own affairs with the full powers of British freedom, attached to the Empire by loyalty to the same Crown, and only liable to be alienated from the Empire by abuse of the powers of the Crown. It is, moreover, composed of Englishmen, Scotchmen, Irishmen mainly, almost exclusively. With what countenance can statesmen who administer an empire which contains hundreds of millions of men of utterly different races from our own talk of the duty of allegiance to them, while the bond of loyalty existing among Englishmen themselves is so glibly disparaged? It is not long since a Colonial Minister, addressing an audience of Australians, would not hesitate to hint at separation in a tone that would be treason at Calcutta, or even in Dublin, and that sometimes tempted us to think there was a time coming when loyalty should be regarded in this country as a question of longitude. When that day comes, it is not merely in Australia, but throughout its whole extent, that the Empire will perish, and we will add, deserve to perish, for it can only live by the virtues that founded and combined it. We cannot say how sincerely we regret that such is the chief lesson to be deduced from Mr. Trollope's Australian pilgrimage."

THE CHAMPION SHOT OF THE BRITISH ARMY.—The Bath Express, received by last mail, says: Corporal Bryant, of the 62nd foot (a Bradford-on-Avon man), now in India, has once more vindicated his title as champion shot of the British army, a distinction he has enjoyed for two years. In the contest for Sir Henry Tomb's prize, firing at an 8-inch bull's eye at 200 yards, Bryant made 3, 4, 4, 4, 4 or 19 out of 20, while at the 400 and 500 yards range he scored the entire 20, that is to say 59 points out of a possible 60. The feat is not likely to be repeated, and cannot well be excelled. In competing for the championship he has this year made the excellent score of 140 points, an increase of 16 over that of last year, and 26 of the year before, leaving all other competitors far behind. In the Commander-in-Chief's Match, out of ten shots he scored 35, and secured the first prize of £20. In this class firing he scored 76, 76, and 64 respectively, or a total of 216 points. Such a marksman has hardly ever been known in the British army, and Bradford ought to be proud of such a man, who, against all competitors, has maintained for three years his well earned title of champion shot of the British army.

THE VIENNA EXHIBITION.

No. III.

(REPORTED SPECIALLY FOR THE SYDNEY MORNING HERALD.)

VIENNA, SUNDAY, APRIL 27.

THE Vienna papers are making fun about the weather, in anticipation of the opening day of the Exhibition. It is really icy cold just now. The train from Trieste was snowed up yesterday for six hours in the Semmering pass before it could get through; so, anticipating a continuance of this arctic weather, the papers condole with those who will be obliged to attend officially in Court dress, and not be allowed the comfort of a shawl, or topcoat, or cloak. They also allude to the envy the Hungarian nobles will excite, dressed as they will be in their costly and warm furs; no one will ridicule them now, as they are in the habit of doing during Court ceremonies in hot weather, when these same fur-cloaked nobles are sweating under the splendid garments they wear; now they will have the laugh on their side—they will be comfortably warm, whilst others will appear with noses blue with cold, and shaking limbs. But really the prospect is not enlivening. After I dispatched my letter to you yesterday, I went to inspect the Exhibition Building; I was readily furnished with the necessary pass by Mr. Cunliffe Owen, which admits me everywhere. The building is a great success; even that adjective sounds cold when applied to this magnificent structure; the building in London in 1862, and Paris in 1867, are not for a moment to be compared with it; the centre rotunda is really a marvel of engineering skill and genius; our English engineer, Scott Russell, is the designer, and constructor of the iron roof which spans it. I have already told you that I am not going to give you any detailed description of the Exhibition or the buildings connected with it, which you will find recorded, and exceedingly well described in the London papers; but I cannot resist giving you the dimensions of this wonderful rotunda and building. The latter is 2940 feet long by 570 feet in breadth. The rotunda is 354 feet in diameter and 250 feet high in the main walls. On this rises a lantern 60 feet high and 100 feet in diameter, and again another smaller one 43 feet high and 24 feet in diameter, the whole being surmounted outside by the Imperial Austrian Crown, 17 feet high, and weighing 2 tons. All the component parts of the huge building are harmonious in design, architecturally correct in elevation, and tasteful in decoration. In the building and outside the building there is naturally much disorder and unreadiness; but with the experience of 1862 in my recollection, I have great confidence that Baron Schwartz will succeed in making the place look tolerably in order on the opening day. As our exhibits cannot possibly arrive for another month, I had nothing to personally worry myself about, and was able to look on philosophically at the troubles of those whose goods had arrived but could not be delivered. It was amusing to watch all these foreigners rushing about and stumbling over each other—every one talking, no one listening, and the distracted Exhibition officials with an expression of blank despair depicted on their faces; then, although smoking inside the building was strictly forbidden, outside everyone seemed to be smoking. How they managed not to set fire to the thousands of deal cases lying about in all directions, with straw and litter of paper in sufficient quantities for a grand conflagration, is what I marvelled at; one match would do it all. Went this morning to the Emperor's chapel to hear mass performed, with excellent music, by his Majesty's private band. The chapel is open to the public without ticket, for as many as can get into it; none of the nonsensical formalities observed at St. James's, in London, where no one can get in unless provided with a card from the Lord Chamberlain's office. Considering how excellent the music was, there were surprisingly few people present. At 1 o'clock went to see the Guard mount at the Hofburg. The Austrian military bands are renowned for their music. Vienna, now that I have looked round it, I pronounce a splendid town. The old part of the town is most interesting from its quaint old-fashioned houses and narrow tortuous streets; the new part, which has been erected on the space formerly occupied by the ramparts, is literally a city of palaces; no other designation will do it justice.

TUESDAY, APRIL 29.

Yesterday all the cabs struck work—some 3500 in number—and the dispute is only to night said to be in a fair way of adjustment; it was a terrible nuisance yesterday and to-day. But how can we "Britishers" find fault with strikes when we ourselves set the example of strikes to other countries? Yesterday afternoon the sun shone out, I immediately seized the opportunity to go to the top of the tower of St. Stephen's Cathedral, 443 feet high. The view from the top on a fine day can hardly be surpassed or equalled by any similar view in Europe. Again, you must be satisfied with my simple assertion of the fact. If I once begin describing this and other matters in detail I must write a book; and that in the face of "Murray" and "Baedecker," would indeed be sending coals to Newcastle. But this I may tell you; I went up there specially, to have a leisurely survey of the battle-fields of Aspirn and Wagram, which on a clear day are spread out before you like a map. The fire watchman, who lives in the room at the top of the Tower, gives you the necessary indications of the position of the several villages, and then, with the recollection of the description of "Thiers" fresh in my memory, everything was perfectly clear to me. How I gazed at that historic ground! Close underneath me, as it were, lay the island Lob-Au (Thiers, who does not understand German, calls it Lobau; so also does Allison), where the Great Napoleon retired to with his army after the drawn battle of Aspirn or Essling; and where he had to remain for six weeks until the bridge of boats was rebuilt by which he again crossed to the left bank of the Danube, and fought and won the bloody battle of Wagram. What vicissitudes Vienna has had! Twice occupied by the French; in 1866 nearly occupied by the Prussians; besieged by the Turks of old; and bombarded in 1848 by her own rebellious children under Windishgratz and the Ban Jellachich. Now it is an open town, and come what may, there never can arise the necessity for an enemy to bombard it.

At 7 this morning I was awoke by a sharp rap at the door of my room; on opening it I found a tall military-looking serving-man standing there, who made the military salute and handed me a large sheet of paper. "What on earth is this," thought I; "have I unconsciously been infringing the laws of the country, and is this a summons?" When I read it, I found it was something far more pleasant, namely, an invitation to dine with his Imperial Majesty, the Emperor of Austria, on the 1st May, at 6 o'clock. The paper further gave directions as to dress, and at which entrance of the palace to come in by (the Ambassadors' Entrance), and indicating the Privy Council Saloon as the Reception Room. My tall friend at the door, however, would not leave the paper with me—requested me to sign my name at the foot of it (in token of proof, I suppose, of his having delivered the message), and then, with another military salute, departed. I must confess, I prefer our Lord Chamberlain's method of conveying our Queen's commands to entertainments at Buckingham Palace, by handsome printed cards. But what matter! Customs differ in different countries—the great fact is to get the invitation. Mr. and Mrs. H—— and the two young ladies duly arrived this morning at the "Erzhirgog Karl" with courier and maid—their rooms were engaged beforehand for them. Went with Mr. H—— and got the necessary tickets for the ladies for the opening day's ceremony; for Mr. H—— himself I got an official free ticket, as well as a season ticket available during the period the Exhibition will remain open.

THE NEW COAL MINES REGULATION ACT.

ON Wednesday, the 2nd instant, a deputation of practical miners sent by mining delegates representing the interests of the miners of the Borehole, Waratah, New Lambton, Wallsend, and Co-operative collieries, waited upon the Minister for Lands at his office; being accompanied by Mr. John Wood, the general secretary to the Miners' Association in the Hunter River district. The object of the deputation was to offer certain suggestions relative to the framing of the New Coal Mines Regulation Bill—a measure about (as it is understood) to be introduced into Parliament by the present Administration. Mr. J. Dickson attended on the part of the miners of the Borehole, and Mr. Michael Yates for those of the Waratah; Mr. W. Davis appearing for the miners of New Lambton, Mr. T. Alnwick for those of Wallsend, and Mr. W. Hawkins for the miners of the Co-operative Colliery, near Wallsend. The miners of Lambton colliery proper were not represented.

The deputation having been introduced and received by the Minister, the general secretary of the Miners' Association (Mr. Wood) and Mr. Hawkins briefly explained the nature of their business, and Mr. Wood produced a rather bulky document containing certain new clauses, which, he said, the miners desired to have incorporated in the forthcoming bill, together with suggestions, in a more general form, which they hoped to see adopted by the Government (in the interests of the miners) when the bill was brought before Parliament. There were about sixty-nine clauses in the rough draft submitted by Mr. Wood to the Hon. Mr. J. Farnell; besides numerous other apparently tangible propositions, amounting in all to about 200 paragraphs.

Mr. FARNELL examined the document laid before him, and inquired whether any of the new clauses, definitely submitted, were such as required any special explanation?

Mr. WOOD said that the matters touched on would, as it was thought, be found to be such as did require some little explanation. One of these more important matters was the proposed legislation as to the proper or "adequate" supply of air for every colliery. Both the English and the Colonial Acts said that an "adequate" supply of air should be given. That was not sufficiently distinct. The miners had instructed them to state that they wished the new Act very clearly to define what amount of air would be imperatively required under the term "adequate." The delegates thought that the Act ought to provide for the regular introduction of a fresh current of air at the stated interval for every forty men, instead of every sixty—because it must be remembered that horses were worked down in the mines, and consumed a large quantity of air—more air than men; and that consumption was not reckoned for. Two hundred cubic feet of air per minute for every man was little enough to provide for, and they had based their calculations upon competent authorities on this very important point. They were fully borne out in this their view, by "Hopkin's Conversations on Mines," and by other reliable works. The proprietors of mines had said that 150 cubic feet per minute would be sufficient; but that supply the miners (who were the best qualified to judge) declared to be altogether too little.

After some conversation between the Minister and the deputation, in further elucidation of the points specially insisted upon, the Minister promised that the suggestion offered as to the amount of air to be insisted upon by the Act, as a supply for every mine, should receive the careful consideration of the Government in the framing of the intended Act.

The next topic brought before the notice of the Minister, as embodied in the draft clauses submitted, and accompanying "suggestions" had reference to the provisions to be made for the working of boys in the coal mines. The views entertained by the delegates were principally set forth by Mr. Wood (the secretary) and Messrs. Davis and Yates. It was urged that the miners were very anxious for the education of the boys, who were in every instance the sons of the miners. They thought it desirable not to prohibit the employment of boys, but to insist in the Act that every "boy" employed, under legislative provisions, should be between the ages of 13 and 18, certainly not less than 13. They judged it also expedient that no boy should ever be allowed to work in a mine unless he both could read and write. And the reason for this they took to be self-evident. A person unable to read and write, would not be able to make himself readily acquainted with the meaning of regulations, and special notices posted up in a mine; and the consequence would be not only that he would be liable to risk his own life, but the lives of all others working in the same mine.

Mr. FARNELL: I understand it then to be your deliberate opinion that it ought, in such cases, to be a bar to the employment of any one not able to read and write?

Mr. WOOD: Yes.

Mr. FARNELL: Do the boys who are employed in the collieries when they grow up usually become miners?

Mr. WOOD: They do. They are generally—in almost all instances—sons of the miners. What we consider is that all boys ought to be under legislative regulations up to 18 years.

Mr. FARNELL said this matter also should be carefully considered.

Mr. WOOD said another thing proposed by the delegates was to have a check inspector appointed and recognised, who would have, as a matter of routine duty, to go and inspect every mine. They wished to have this check inspector, in their interests, not only appointed by the miners but paid by them. This officer's duty would be not to interfere with the working of a mine in any way, but to be a means of communication (without prejudice to any body) between the miners and employers, and the Government Inspector, when it was felt that such intervention had become indispensable from the atmospheric state of the mine. They wished also that the Government inspector's inspection of a mine should not be of a superficial or casual venture, but that he should be obliged to visit every working place in every mine once a month.

Mr. FARNELL feared that if the proposed Act were to be made to contain all the minute provisions which appeared to be contemplated, it might be found to prove rather cumbrous. Would it not be sufficient if some of the arrangements suggested were to be made in regulations framed under the Act?

Mr. YATES thought that, if the suggestions were carried out by the Government by regulations framed under the Act, it would be quite as good as to provide for them by special clauses in the enactment.

Mr. FARNELL said that the suggestions made should be utilized, as far as possible, in the framing of the new Act.

After some remarks from Mr. YATES, explanatory of the intended duty of a "Check Inspector," whose duty it would be give a ready means of relief to the miner if the Government Inspector did not properly inspect, a conversation next ensued, on the proposition of the miners delegates, that it should be made compulsory on every strange miner to work, as the mate of a miner of known experience, for at least twelve months. It was explained that the object of this provision was not a monopoly or restriction of labour, but for the securing of a reasonable guarantee that the lives of the miners should not be made liable to danger by the employment of an inexperienced hand, who, from sheer ignorance, might fire the mine and blow up the miners by the hundred. If it were made compulsory that every stranger taken on to work in a mine should have to work with a miner of known experience, there would be some safeguard against the danger to which they must be liable from an inexperienced hand.

Mr. FARNELL said that this also should be considered.

A conversation then ensued between the deputation and the Minister relative to the proposition to pay a "check weighman."

Mr. FARNELL doubted whether it would not be beyond the province of legislation to interfere in such a matter.

Mr. YATES said the proposition was, not that every miner, but that every "coal-getter in a mine" should be compellable to pay the check weighman. The miners also desired to have the choosing of this check weighman.

Mr. HAWKINS said they had another suggestion to offer about the right to recover wages on the part of one of two miners, working (as was customary) together. It was wished that any one of two such mates might be empowered to sue for his own share of what was coming to him, even if the other did not choose to concur in the suit. At present the concurrence of both was indispensable.

Mr. FARNELL said he thought that this proposition was reasonable.

Mr. YATES said we wish, sir, also to know whether it could not be made a felony for the one of two such men (working with each other) to abscond with his mate's share of the money coming to him?

Mr. FARNELL said that the law provided already for any such a contingency.

Mr. YATES remarked that he was only expressing the feeling of the miners when he said it was felt that it would be a special hardship to frame any provision against the employment in mines of boys under eighteen years of age. Miners had, for the most part, large families, and their boys were springing up, who either were in want of employment or soon would be. It was very hard for them to be debarred taking their sons to work under their eye, and so to contribute to their own support.

Mr. DAVIS said that he regretted to think that the feeling of the managers seemed to be that it would be well to do away with the employment of boys altogether. This would be a novel and an arbitrary proposition to introduce here. There was no law in England to prevent such employment of boys. Mr. Davis proceeded to give the number of boys at the respective mining villages who attended school, and their ages, with a view to showing the urgency of the proposition that miners' sons should not be deterred from employment in mines. There were, he said, not less than one thousand lads, sons of miners, of such ages that they would be in pressing want of employment within the next four years. Were they to be kept in idleness, and therefore left prone to mischief, or to be trained to honest labour? There was no opening for them in the district if they were not to be allowed to go to work, each under his father's eye. For himself he had tried everywhere to get employment for his own son (aged 17 years) out of the pit; but he could not. It was quite absurd to talk of boys working on their backs. He had never seen anything of the kind. As to their having to work in the close air of a colliery, what was good enough for the father must be good enough for the son.

Mr. YATES: We do not wish this to be dealt with by legislation, but to have it left optional with the masters—to employ boys or not, as they think best.

Mr. FARNELL thought that the suggestions made were very valuable, and that they should all receive a careful consideration in laying down the points to be carried out in the framing of the Act.

Mr. HAWKINS said they would be most happy to send down their general secretary (Mr. Wood) to give any explanation that might be required when the bill came to be framed and considered.

The members of the deputation warmly thanked the Minister for the courtesy and attention with which he had heard what they had to say on matters in which they were all so much concerned.

Mr. DAVIS: Are we to understand, Mr. Farnell, that the bill will be introduced in the forthcoming parliamentary session?

Mr. FARNELL: Yes, certainly.

The deputation then withdrew.

CORONER'S INQUEST.

DEATH FROM DISEASE OF THE HEART.—Yesterday forenoon, the City Coroner held, at the North Willoughby Public school, an inquest touching the death of a woman named Elizabeth Edmunds. Mrs. Holland, residing at North Willoughby, deposed that she knew deceased, who was 72 years of age; she was a widow, her husband having died on Wednesday last; she had been living apart from her husband for the last seventeen years; she had left no children or relatives in the colony; she had not been very well for some time past; between 2 and 3 o'clock yesterday (Thursday) afternoon, she came to witness's place, and said that she was very cold, and could not get half warm; she said also that she felt as if she was going to have a fit, although she had never had one; she complained of a peculiar sensation in the throat; her face was much flushed; she stayed a couple of hours sitting at the fire, and about half-past 4 o'clock, she went home after she had some tea, saying that she felt better; the only one who lived with her was a little girl aged six years; about twenty minutes to 6 o'clock at night, hearing the little girl screaming out that deceased was in the fire she went over; on entering the kitchen she saw deceased on her knees, with a chair close to her, as if she had dropped off it; the right side of her face and head were resting in the fire, and the clothes about her neck were on fire and smouldering; she got her out of the fire, and threw some water over her burning clothes; she was dead; she informed a constable of the circumstance; she had no property, with the exception of a few articles in her house and some poultry. Constable Kirby gave corroborative evidence. Dr. Ward said that he was of opinion that deceased "came to her death, either by falling dead into the fireplace, the result probably of heart disease, or by falling into the fireplace, after being seized with a fit, and being thereby rendered helpless to extricate herself." The jury found that death had resulted from heart disease.

MAITLAND.

[FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.]

JULY 2.—The great event of the week has been the appearance among us of Madame Arabella Goddard and her talented assistants, Mrs. Smythe and Miss Christian. The concert took place last night before a crowded and delighted audience, the large hall of the School of Arts being comfortably filled. So many critiques have, from time to time, appeared in the Herald upon the playing of the world-renowned artiste that further comment would be a matter of supererogation, suffice it to say that she rendered the works selected by her for performance in her own marvellous manner—delighting her audience not only by her wonderful execution and distinctness of touch, but also by the expression and "soul," which are the great charms in her renderings. The talented vocalists also were well received, and obtained a well-deserved share of plaudits from the large and fashionable audience.

On Monday last, the late Drill Instructor to the Volunteers of the Northern Battalion died. Sergeant-Major Jamieson has resided among us for some time, and was much respected by those who knew him. His remains were escorted to the grave on Tuesday by detachments from the East and West Maitland Rifles, preceded by the fine band of the latter company playing the "Dead March" from the oratorio of "Saul."

It is most satisfactory to know that the corn crops in the neighbourhood of the Wollombi have not been injured by the late heavy rains to the extent that was anticipated, and therefore, so far as this important district is concerned, the fears that have been entertained with regard to a supply from this locality may be appeased. Farming operations are yet, for the most part, suspended, and there can now be no doubt that the serial crops must inevitably be very late, thus subjecting them to all the dangers of rust and smut, which it is to be feared, under the circumstances, may assail them.

THE SHIPS OF THE FUTURE.—At the Royal Academy banquet Sir J. Pakington, in responding for the navy, said:—"It is with a pang of regret we no longer see depicted on your walls by Stanfield, by Turner, and many other of our marine artists, those beautiful picturesque ships which used to contribute alike to our artistic tastes and our national pride. Those ships are now the ships of the past. If we turn to the ships of the future, I am afraid there is no chance that any artist will ever be induced to give us the portrait of the Devastation. The ships of the future will have no canvas upon them, and I fear we shall never see them on canvas. Our beautiful ships are now changed to unsightly monsters, which I fear will never be seen on the walls of the Royal Academy; but we trust and fully believe that they will be better adapted, perhaps, than any others have been to the protection of our shores; and of this I am quite certain—whether or not these ships of the future be exhibited on these walls, they will be commanded by officers as able and as brave, and by crews as gallant and true, as have ever done honour to our flag, and fought the battles of England in times of yore in our wooden walls."

BREAKFAST.—EPPS'S COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws, which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctor's bills."—Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with boiling water or milk. Each packet is labelled—"JAMES EPPS & Co., Homœopathic Chemists, London."—ADV.

MARAVILLA COCOA.—The Globe says:—"Taylor, Brothers' Maravilla Cocoa has achieved a thorough success, and supersedes every other Cocoa in the market. Entire solubility, a delicate aroma, and a rare concentration of the purest elements of nutrition, distinguish the Maravilla Cocoa above all others. For invalids and dyspeptics, we could not recommend a more agreeable or valuable beverage." For further favourable opinions vide Standard, Morning Post, British Medical Journal, &c.

The Mint receipts and issues during the past week were:—Gold received for coinage, 4170 oz.; coin issued, 22,000 sovereigns.

During the past week the Stock and Share market was less active than it has been for months past. The value of dividend-paying investments had gone so high lately that buyers were not disposed to pay them, and those who had to sell did so at a slight decline. City and Joint Stock Bank shares receded 5s., and with the exception of one sale of Commercial at 79, no others were dealt in. Though the demand for steam was not very active, prices were supported. Australasian changed hands at 18¾ to 19. Illawarra sold at 10s. improvement. Insurance shares were in much better request. Sydney Fire sold at previous quotation. Pacific and United at 1s. 6d. advance—a good number of the latter changed hands. Gas-light stock has been offering at previous rates. Debentures were hardly so firm owing to the expected sale of the new Funded Debt Loan, for which tenders were opened yesterday, and about £131,000 worth sold, at from par to 95. No difficulty is anticipated about placing the balance at a satisfactory price.

The course of sales has been:—Banks: Joint Stock, 13, 12¾; City, 10⅝, 10½, 10¼; Commercial, 79. Steam: A. S. N., 19, 18⅞, 18¾; Illawarra, 4¾. Insurance: Sydney Fire, 60s.; Pacific, 19s. 6d.; United, 10s., 9s. 9d. Debentures: N. S. Wales, 102½, 103½ (1876), 107 (1899); City of Sydney, 108½.

Stocks of imported merchandise have been increased during the week by the arrival of the Patriarch from London, Cordillera from Liverpool, and Anglo-Saxon from New York, all with large cargoes. The opening of the half-year has not been very bright as far as trade prospects are concerned, and at the present rate of demand it will take months to clear off the goods now on hand. Breadstuffs are unaltered; flour is selling at £14 10s. to £15 10s., and although wheat is quoted at 6s. 3d. in Adelaide, holders here are unable to get more than 6s. 6d. In candles there is a little business doing at 10½d. to 11d. for leading brands. Coffee supplies are still limited to a small quantity of plantation, for which 12½d. is readily obtained. There has been no change in Dundee goods; the only sale we heard of was a small parcel of woolpacks at 4s. 9d. Blasting powder has been quitted at 6d. Fruits have a slow sale, and quotations are nominal. A large quantity of groceries and oilmen's stores were advertised for auction on Tuesday last, but there were none sold then. Some faulty and outside lots have been quitted at low figures. Kerosene oil has declined a trifle; colonial made is also easier. In liquors, we note a firmer feeling in brandies since the mail arrived with advices that Martell and Hennessy had advanced their price for last year's vintage to 5s. 9d. Bulk beer has had another fall. £7 10s. has been accepted for a leading brand. Bottled is selling more freely. Pig porter is scarce. Geneva and other spirits unaltered. The value of metals remains about the same as before. The rice market is quiet, and buyers operating cautiously in view of expected arrivals. Sugars are not so firm since the sale of the Tranquebar's cargo, which was quitted at a decline on previous rates. Advices from Hongkong of shipments being made to Australia on an increased scale may have something to do with the alteration. The largest quittance of tea since the early part of the season was at auction yesterday when a considerable quantity of first crop sold at a considerable reduction on what similar teas realised previously. The balance of another cargo will be offered next week. We believe that intelligence has been received that the new teas had opened at Foochoo at last season's value.

MINING.

Victorian Mines; Hustler's Great Extended, 6⅛, 6, £6 3s.; ditto, Tribute, 47s.

A dividend of 10d. per share has been declared by Beyers and Holtermann's G. M. Co.

Age of Progress G. M. Co.—The mining manager reports, on the 1st instant:—"Down 14 feet in shaft, between Age of Progress and Middlesex G. M. Co.; stone looking well, and expect 10 oz. per ton; will crush 6 tons on the 10th instant."

Beyers and Holtermann's G. M. Co.—The mining manager reports, under date the 3rd July, as follows:—"I may say matters at the claim are going on steadily as usual. This week we have commenced to raise quartz from the southern boundary, showing the same quantity of gold as per last crushed. Work done this week: Sunk north shaft 4 feet, making total depth 41 feet from the present stopes; driving in No. 1 level 4 feet, total length 12 feet. The surface drive is driven this week 10 feet, total length 20 feet. We are stoping towards the southern boundary. Stone raised this week: No. 3, 5 tons."

Sandhurst Quartz M. Co., Gulgong.—A meeting of the shareholders was held, this day, for the purpose of considering the disposal of the cash balance in the hands of the directors. The chairman having stated to the meeting that, after paying all legal expenses, cost of management, &c., there would be £200 to divide among 20,000 scrip of £1 each, of which 6000 were in the hands of the promoters, giving only 2½d. per share. Under the circumstances, the meeting, after discussion, agreed to the following resolution:—"That £75 of the balance in hand be divided among the directors, as part of that they were entitled to in proportion to their attendance; the balance of £125 to be distributed among the Sydney charities in such sums as the Board may hereafter direct." After a vote of thanks to the chairman and directors, the meeting separated.

THE MUDGEE SHOW.

[FROM OUR SPECIAL REPORTER.]

WEDNESDAY.

The sheep-farmers of this district have made Mudgee famous all over Australia, and, what is perhaps of still greater consequence, it is held in good repute among the constituents of the London woolbrokers; but for my part I would rather subscribe to the Herald, and read in your columns of its wonderful wealth in wool and gold, of its fertile soil and salubrious climate, than undergo the toils of the journey which the man must encounter who would come here and see the beauty and the richness of the country for himself. If he leaves Sydney by the morning train, he will probably find it pleasant enough to look out upon the smiling landscapes which lie all along the route to Penrith; to glide swiftly over the circuitous track of the mountain railway, even though it be for the hundredth time; to catch a fleeting view of the pictures of rugged and illimitable grandeur which occur in the neighbourhoods of Blackheath and Lithgow Valley; and, finally, to dine comfortably in Shaw's snug little hostelry at Wallerawang. But, unfortunately, the repast at Shaw's does not finish the business. There are seventy-five unconscionably long miles to be traversed before the North-Western capital is reached; and then, too, as a matter of fact, the Government, or the Postmaster-General, or the Commissioner for Railways, or somebody else who has "neither a body to be kicked nor," &c.—with a barbarism worthy of the middle ages practically insists that we shall travel by night, and thus get braced up by the cold biting air of the mountains for the road journey which has to follow. The only public conveyance that I know of leaving Wallerawang for Mudgee is Cobb and Co.'s mail coach, which starts half-an-hour after the night train arrives at Wallerawang. Far be it from me to rail against those rather mythical individuals—Messrs. Cobb and Co., or the Minister for Works, for the former have provided pretty tough coaches (a trifle too squat for one whose skull is not particularly thick, and utterly destructive to anything approaching in shape to an orthodox chimney-pot hat), regular relays of powerful horses, and skilful drivers; while the latter (thanks to the liberality of Parliament in borrowing money) is building a pretty good road. During the last twelve months, as I can vouch, the road has been wonderfully improved, and at the end of another twelve months it may be reckoned as first-class. In the mean time, however, if Jehu were not vigilant, and pretty expert, there are plenty of patches of bog from which teams have been dug out, and in which, until dry weather sets in, her Majesty's mail, to say nothing about her subjects, might be well nigh overwhelmed.

There is one matter before I come to the show, to which as a representative in some sort of the public, I feel called upon to allude, and that is the shameful loss of time, to say nothing of the great inconvenience, to which travellers are subjected at all the wayside public-houses and post-offices. There seems to be some understanding between the mail drivers and the innkeepers that the coach shall be drawn up in front of the doors of the latter, and kept waiting ten or fifteen minutes, whether the passengers care to drink or not; and if any thirsty soul be tempted to relieve the monotony of the journey by a little nobbleizing, a further delay takes place. The road journey, which now takes seventeen hours, and sometimes twenty, might be done in fourteen if not in twelve, in ordinary weather without the drivers increasing the pace in the slightest degree, and still afford opportunities for "liquoring up" every fourteen miles, which I take to be about the average length of the stages. When I came down the road twelve months ago, in company with a late Mayor of Sydney, and some other teetotal alderman, it was rather good fun to hear the "chaff" that took place between Boniface and those redoubtable Sons of Temperance who refused to be refreshed by the proffered libations; but, in weather such as we have latterly had, it is abominable that so little regard should be shown to the comfort and inclinations of passengers—more particularly of women and children, whose health may suffer by the journey between Mudgee and Wallerawang being so protracted. It is not, of course, to be said that because I am "virtuous" there shall be no more "cakes and ale." All that I say is, why not wait for your beer until you can get it good? And where the coaches do stop (i.e., for dinner or breakfast, as the case may be), it is good. Then, as to the post-officials; are they not as great sinners as the publicans? That most respectable and estimable lady who keeps the post-office at ——, for instance, might surely part from the driver in something less than half or three-quarters of an hour. The business of stamping letters is not so novel that a coach load of gentlemen—whose time, by the way, may probably be worth in money as much to them as a whole day or a week to the keeper of the post-office—should be kept cooling in an incipient snowstorm while the operation is performed. Possibly long exposure to cold may be an advantage, the benumbing process being regarded in the light of a set off against the bruising, jolting, jarring, &c., incidental to locomotion in the nineteenth century. The people of Mudgee all appear to have comfortable homes, and, so far as casual visitors are concerned, the hotels afford good and respectable accommodation; and why, therefore, they should quietly submit to the existing state of things is to me an inscrutable mystery. Perhaps, as wool has been fetching such high prices lately, they have parted with that well-used privilege, considered so essentially British—the right of grumbling. Permit me to make a present of this grievance to some member of Parliament who is hard-up for a hobby.

As to the Exhibition, upon which you have specially commissioned me to report, I find that that of which I am about to write is the thirteenth held by the Mudgee Agricultural and Pastoral Society, and am told that it excels all its predecessors. This intelligence was the more gratifying to me from the fact that I could hear nothing of the show on the road up, and when I arrived in town last night I could learn little to warrant the presumption that the residents of Mudgee were aware of the existence of the society, and there certainly were no indications that the Exhibition in which you have taken so much interest was to take place in the morning. A prophet is without honour in his own country. The show ground was deserted, except by two or three men, who were putting up or repairing the framework of saplings over which, at about noon to-day, was thrown a piece of tarpaulin in rags and tatters. Under the fluttering shelter of this miserable canopy the committee hospitably provided a capital luncheon for the judges and stewards, and I have no doubt that the appeal of the Hon. George Henry Cox (who did duty as chairman for the venerable and respected president of the society) will be responded to by the people of Mudgee, and that future exhibitions on this ground will be held under happier auspices. Good stock such as this district produces deserves good shelter, and, with better roads, the number of sheep, cattle, and horses entered for exhibition will require more than double the present accommodation. The pens for sheep are so badly placed that it is difficult for the judges to do their work; there are not enough stalls for the cattle, and I think none for the horses—at any rate none were used. The pens will have to be covered in, for as things are at present the show cannot last more than four hours; and where there is a large number of sheep to be handled, it requires nearly all that time to judge them. The judging is supposed to begin at 10 o'clock, and the show to open at 12; but as the animals have to be brought on the ground on the morning of the show, delay is inevitable, and some of the stock is hardly judged before it has to be removed. Now that attention has been pointedly called to the matter, arrangements will no doubt be made for a two days' show, or for a show that will be open during the whole of one day. Many consider that a show held in the middle of winter can never be so attractive as one held earlier in the season, when the cattle are in show condition, or later, when the wool has obtained a maturer growth.

The society, it will be observed, is styled the Mudgee "Agricultural" and Pastoral Society; and it is no doubt intended to promote the improvement of agriculture. I have heard that there are few if any agriculturists who are members of the society, and the prizes appear to be all subscribed for by squatters. Agriculturists here appear to take even less interest in these exhibitions than growers of grain and vegetables in some other parts of the colony, and my observation goes to show that there is a surprising (if not culpable) indifference on the part of cultivators to associations formed for the benefit of the class to which they belong. The prizes offered by the society at Mudgee are nothing to boast of; but when one pound is considered an adequate prize to the exhibitor of the best blood horse, the best bull, or the best ram, it cannot well be objected that 10s. is not enough for the best half dozen turnips, ditto carrots, ditto parsnips, ditto onions, ditto cabbages, ditto cauliflowers, ad infinitum, no entrance fee being charged to the exhibitors in the agricultural sections. Speaking in general terms, there was about a cart load of agricultural produce at the Show; or, inclusive of the two bundles of hay, say two cart loads for agricultural and miscellaneous produce. Articles of this nature are of a perishable character, and there is, as I have indicated, no place in which they can be housed. Unless the cultivators or manufacturers of any particular article live near to the township, the badness of the road would be another and an insuperable objection to any but the most enthusiastic. The railway is a far more important auxiliary to the success of the metropolitan and the Hunter River shows than most people would imagine, but a railway even to Mudgee would not make up for that prevalent apathy among farmers which is no doubt one reason of their indifferent success. The squatters as a body may be scarcely less culpable; but fortunately for them and the community at large, there are in different parts of the colony, as at Mudgee, little bands of enthusiastic graziers who, while pushing their own fortunes, are at the same time giving a great impetus to colonial progress. Although the agricultural section was very bare, several of the things shown were very good. There were some magnificent apples shown by Mr. F. Bucholtz. They were sweet as well as of enormous size; and there were specimens of a peach apple shown by Mr. C. Cox, or a variety very like it, from a tree that has produced three crops this year. This, in a district like Mudgee, is remarkable; and I should hardly have expected to find lemons growing there to such perfection as those shown by Mr. Lowe. Mr. Bucholtz also exhibited several sorts of wine, to which prizes were awarded—wine of a quality which, if produced in quantity, would make Mudgee as famous for its vineyards as it now is for its sheep. Some splendid turkeys and geese, some Aylesbury ducks, and different descriptions of farm yard fowls were shown by the Hon. G. H. Cox M.L.C., and three first-rate collections of pigeons—the prize-taker in that department being Mr. G. Hazletone. There were, of course, several other descriptions of exhibits; but the quantities were so small, or the quality was so indifferent, as to make them scarcely worthy of notice here. I saw no wheat, flour, or dairy produce. The only thing in the way of harness was two good hogskin saddles, made by Mr. Murphy; and the only exhibit of agricultural implements was a mowing machine.

Having said so much about the agricultural department, I must now turn to the pastoral, which on this occasion, at any rate, gave the exhibition almost the only interest which it possessed. Sheep would naturally claim attention first, but I will refer to the live stock in the order of the schedule.

The stewards in the horse section were Mr. J. D. Cox for blood horses, and Mr. W. C. Reynolds for draught horses; the judges being Mr. John Lee and Mr. Charles Lawson, and Mr. J. Readford and Mr. J. Tuckstord respectively. Messrs. R. Cox and S. A. Blackman were stewards for the cattle, and Mr. George Loder and Mr. J. Living were the judges. The Hon. G. H. Cox and Mr. A. H. Cox were the stewards in the sheep section, and the judges were Mr. Clement Sabine, Mr. Thompson, and Mr. Sharp. The first section was for blood horses. Prizes of £1 were offered for the best stallion three years old and over, for the best two-year-old, and the best yearling. Prizes of the same amount were offered for the best mare, for the best two-year-old, and yearling filly, but in the last two classes there were no entries. Only two three-year-old stallions were shown, namely, Teddington and Brigadier. The former was awarded the first prize by the judges, and the latter was highly commended. Teddington was shown by Mr. George Rouse of Biragambil. He is a fine evenly made horse, combining blood, bone, and symmetry. He was bred by Mr. Charles Reynolds, of Tocal, his sire being New Warrior, and his dam Io. He was also awarded the cup, given by the society in lieu of a money prize to the best animal in his class. Brigadier was exhibited by Messrs. R. and E. Rouse, of Guntawang. He is a splendid chestnut, a bigger horse than Teddington, though not considered to be so well made about the legs. Only two two-year-olds were on the ground, and the prize was given to a pretty brown horse, named King of the West, by Gemma di Vergy, out of Princess. There was no entry for the one-year old class. Of the four three-year-old blood mares, Mr. J. Readford's Quickstep, a white mare having a strain of Arab blood in her, carried off the palm. She is one of Little John's progeny out of the Jewess's sister, and she came originally from the stud at Bylong. Mr. J. D. Little's Myrtle was honourably mentioned by the judges. The other two mares entered were Mr. J. L. Little's Vixen, and Mr. R. H. D. White's Miriam. It will be seen that Mr. Lee, of Bylong, whose reputation as a breeder of blood stock stands high, was not an exhibitor.

The exhibition of draught horses was far superior to anything which had previously been seen on the Mudgee Show ground, and would, in point of excellence, compare with the best of the Sydney and Singleton shows. Out of about a dozen animals shown five came from Biragambil, and Mr. George Rouse's stock achieved the most distinction, the first prizes for the best three-year-old stallion and the best three-year-old mare beind given to his horses—King of the Ring and Bloomer. The prizes offered for the draught horses corresponded with those offered for the blood stock; but, as in that class, there were no entries for the best yearling and two-year-old fillies, and only one entry in the yearling and two-year-old stallion classes. Competition, therefore, was really confined to the class for three-year-old stallions, in which King of the Ring was pitted against Defiance, Clinker, Prince Arthur, Farmer's Glory, Lofty, and Iron Duke,—a splendid lot of draught sires, and one of which any district in the colony might well be proud. King of the Ring is four years old, and was by Young Lofty, out of a Scotch mare. His name has latterly been changed from Young Lofty to that now given. He gained first prize as a yearling at Melton Mowbray, in 1869, against twelve others; and he is a first prize-taker at Wagga, the only place where he has hitherto been shown. He is a beautiful dappled brown, and of the pure Clydesdale breed. Mr. W. Lavender's horse, Farmer's Glory, was honourably mentioned by the judges; he is a magnificent horse worthy to take rank with King of the Ring. He is now five years old, and by imported Matchless out of Flower, an imported mare. The other horses shown by Mr. G. Rouse (Clinker and Defiance), by Mr. W. Bowman, Messrs. R. and E. Rouse, and the Hon. G. H. Cox were much and deservedly admired. The prize for the best yearling stallion was awarded to Mr. T. Jackson's yearling, Conqueror, there being no competitor. Both the three-year-old draught mares shown came from Biragambil, and both were the progeny of Atlas, by Champion. They were bred by the exhibitor, Mr. G. Rouse. Lumpy is a much bigger animal than Bloomer, to which the prize was given, but Lumpy was griped, and thus appeared before the judges in anything but show condition.

The show of horned cattle was large, and better than I expected to see at Mudgee, and I am not sure indeed that it did not agreeably surprise many of the Mudgee stock-owners themselves. The herds of the Mudgee district cannot of course be compared to those of the Hunter, where are to be found more high class breeding establishments of Durham, Hereford, and Devon cattle than exist in any other district of the colony, if not indeed than in any other part of Australia. The Mudgee breeders of horned stock, however, have no need to be ashamed of their herds, and there can be no insuperable obstacle to success almost as complete as that which has rewarded their efforts as flockmasters. The pasturage is probably not so well adapted for the production of beef as of wool, and the climatic conditions may not be so favourable to raising cattle as are those of the Hunter. The Durhams and the Herefords shown on the grounds, however, indicate pretty clearly that cattle of a high class character may be reared in the district; and it is gratifying to observe that Mr. Lowe's well-known herd keeps up its good repute. There was only one entry in each of the first two classes of the Durham section. And as to the first-class (best bull three years old and over) I could not find Mr. W. C. Lowe's Young Butterfly, and do not believe he was on the ground. The prize for the second (best bull, two years old) was taken by Mr. J. Newman's bull. There were three yearling bulls shown—Sir Robert by Mr. R. Lowe, Monmouth 13th by Messrs. R. and E. Rouse, and Alepius by Mr. H. Smith. Sir Robert is a remarkably level even red bull, well down in the brisket, but was not shown in tip-top condition. He is now a year and ten months old, and was got by Butterfly the 29th, his mother being that famous old cow beauty. The "cup" prize for the best bull in his class was given to Sir Robert. Monmouth the 13th was honourably mentioned. The entries in the next class (best cow, three years old and over) were well filled up. Mr. C. M. Lowe competed with White Cow, Messrs. R. and E. Rouse with Daisy and Dewdrop, Mr. R. Lowe with Roany and Beauty, Mr. W. C. Lowe with Cora and Verbena, and Mr. J. Redford with Buttercup and Roan. The prize went to Beauty, a grand old roan cow, of excellent quality, which up to the present time has distanced all competitions on the Mudgee ground. But when the judges' awards came out, it was found that Beauty had already distinguished herself so highly on former occasions that she was not eligible for the prize, and it was therefore transferred to Verbena, which had been awarded honourable mention. The cup, however, went to the owner of Beauty, which was adjudged to be the best animal in her class. Verbena is a very promising animal, and bids fair to distinguish herself as a prize taker. There were two two-year-old heifers shown by Mr. R. Lowe, both having the Butterfly blood. Bluebell, who triumphed over Verbena 3rd, has a good coat and cover to recommend her, but her head and horns are not up to the mark. In the next class about half-a-dozen yearling heifers put in an appearance, to wit, Messrs. R. and E. Rouse's Beauty 4th, and Verbena 4th, Mr. J. D. Cox's Holly, Mr. W. C. Lowe's Violet and Helena, and Mr. R. Lowe's Dolly Varden and Butterfly Queen. Butterfly Queen was the youngest heifer of the lot. She has a pretty head, and possesses quality in every way. Although wanting in condition she carried off the prize. Beauty the 4th, a very good roan heifer, was honorably mentioned. The prize for the best heifer calf under twelve months, brought together half a dozen promising babies which were entered in the lists as Snowdrop 4th, and Daisy 6th (shown by Messrs. R. and E. Rouse), Dew Drop and Daisy (shown by Mr. W. C. Lowe), Blanche (shown by Mr. M. R. Lowe), No. 4 (shown by Mr. J. Readford), and an unnamed calf shown by Mr. E. P. Lowe. Blanche, to which the prize was awarded, is a snow white calf having a very silkly coat, and was as true and pretty a beast as any to be found in the yard. She has a very pleasing soft expression of face, and, excepting only in the matter of condition, may be said to be faultless. Snowdrop, to which "honourable mention" was given, is a beautiful calf, rich in colour, good in the fore quarter, but falls too rapidly away from the hips to the tail.

The white faces were not so numerous as the Durhams, but they gave proof of equally good breeding. The only three-year-old bull shown in the first-class was the prize-taker, Defiance, the property of Mr. G. Rouse. There were two entries for the prize given to the best two-year-old bull—namely, Royal Charter, shown by the Hon. G. H. Cox, and Taurus, by Mr. J. D. Cox. The prize-winner was Royal Charter, a very lengthy, even bull, well filled out in the twist, showing an excellent flank. He has a remarkably good head and horns, and is a bull of sterling quality. He was bred by Mr. Reynolds, of Tocal. He carried off the cup as the best Hereford bull on the ground. Two yearling bulls were shown by Mr. J. D. Cox—St. George and Lord Lyon—the former taking the prize. St. George is a well-grown useful animal. The Hon. G. H. Cox's prize of £2 10s. for the best Hereford bull calf, under twelve months, brought half-a-dozen animals into the list, two of which were shown by the Hon. G. H. Cox, one by Mr. J. D. Cox, and three by Mr. George Rouse. One of Mr. Rouse's calves carried off the prize. The winner was a well-grown useful calf, of good colour and mild temper. The same breeders competed for the prize offered for the best cow three years old and over. Mr. J. D. Cox's Rosebud took the prize, and Mr. G. Rouse's cow was honourably mentioned. Rosebud shows very good breeding and character, but she is small. Mr. Rouse's cow is a very safely animal, but was not considered to be of such good quality as Rosebud. There were two entries in the two-year-old heifer class—Comely by the Hon. G. H. Cox and Janet by Mr. J. D. Cox. Janet was the prize winner. She is a well made cow, has a good coat and pretty head and horns. She was adjudged to be the best female of her class, and as such took the cup in lieu of the money prize. The only yearling heifer shown was Mr. J. D. Cox's Juliet, to which the prize was awarded. The Hon. G. H. Cox's prize of £2 10s. for the best heifer calf under twelve months, went to the Princess of Wales, one of his own animals, against which Mr. J. D. Cox showed Violet and Moss Rose, and Mr. G. Rouse a calf unnamed. There were nine fat cattle shown, eight of which were Durhams, and the other a Hereford. The prize for the best fat ox went to the Hon. G. H. Cox, and for the best fat cow to Messrs. F. and A. Cox, the animals in each case being shorthorns.

Mr. Living purchased half a dozen pure-bred heifers from Mr. Robert Lowe, for Messrs. Travers and Gibson, of Queensland.

The flockowners of the Mudgee district are fortunate in having acquired runs in what appears to be the most eligible locality for the Australian sheep-breeder. The pasturage is rich enough to nourish the sheep without fattening them, to produce wool in preference to mutton, and the climate is tolerably certain, so that the risk of starvation for want of feed in winter and deterioration of the wool by reason of dust in summer is small as compared with less favoured districts. They are not less fortunate in the possession of the finest bred sheep in the colony, the present type of Mudgee sheep being the result of careful breeding from the best importations—those of Captain Macarthur, Mr. Reily, of Raby; Mr. James Walker, of Wallerawang; the late Mr. W. Cox, Mr. Lawson, and others. The character of the Mudgee fleeces—density, extreme fineness, with a great amount of elasticity and strength of fibre—may be said to be almost peculiar to the district; and as great care has been exercised in washing and sorting, well-known brands are taken as a correct criterion of the contents of the bales, and the Mudgee wools have thus obtained an almost uniformly high price in the London market. Within the last five years there has been a great improvement in the quantity of wool per sheep, without deterioration in quality, and more attention has been paid to breeding from single sires and single dams. The average weight per fleece of washed wool may be put down at 2¼ to 2¾ lbs.

The sheep shown this year are about as numerous as at former exhibitions; but the late cold wet weather must have told unfavourably upon their condition. Whether from this cause, the badness of the roads, or for some other reason, two or three of the leading graziers did not exhibit this year. The flocks of Mr. N. P. Bayly, Mr. James J. Reily, and Mr. Charles Lawson, were not represented on the show ground, although those gentlemen were present on the occasion, and appear to take a warm interest in the success of the Mudgee Pastoral Association. Mr. Robert Lowe (the president), who has been suffering of late from severe indisposition, also attended the exhibition but was unable to take any very active part in the business. Much of the success of the show—and it is regarded as having been very successful—must be attributed to the exertions of the Hon. G. H. Cox, and the large amount of work which that gentlemen discharged in connection with it. The following were the prizes competed for in the sheep section—Class 4:—

Best pen of 3 fine combing-wool merino rams, any age—Silver Cup.
2nd best pen ditto ditto ditto, any age—Certificate.
Best pen of 3 clothing-wool ditto—£1.
2nd best pen ditto ditto ditto—Certificate.
Special Prize: Mr. Henry Austin offers £10 for the best 3 hogget rams.
2nd best pen of 3 hogget rams (Society's prize)—£1
Best pen 3 fine combing-wool merino ewes, of any age—Silver Cup.
2nd best pen ditto ditto ditto—Certificate.
Best pen combing-wool ditto—£1.
2nd best pen ditto ditto ditto—Certificate.
Best pen hoggets, not exceeding 12 months—Silver Cup.
2nd best ditto ditto ditto—Certificate.
Special Prize for a Champion ram, any age—Silver Cup.
Special Prize for the best ewe of any age—Silver Cup.
Best pen of 3 fine wool Hogget rams, exhibitor to be breeder, and never to have won a prize for rams at any previous show—£1.
Best pen of 3 ewes under same conditions—£1.
Special Prize: R. Rouse, Esq., (Guntawang) offers a Silver Cup, value £5, for best pen of 3 hogget ewes, not more than twelve months old.

SPECIAL PRIZES.

Messrs. F. and A. Cox, £3, with a sweep of 5s each, best pen of three two-tooth ewes, not less than three exhibitors.

Messrs. J. de V. Lamb and Roberts, £3, with a sweep of 5s. each, best pen of three two-toothed rams; not less than three exhibitors; not to be shown for society's prize, excepting champion ram.

Mr. George Davidson, silver cup, with sweep of 5s. each, for best pen of three four-toothed rams, not less than three exhibitors. Not to be shown for society's prize, excepting champion ram; also a silver cup for best pen of three four-tooth ewes, under similar conditions.

Mr. E. K. Cox offers a £10 cup for the best stud ram, exhibited with his bona-fide male and female offspring, three of each, hoggets dropped not earlier than the 1st of September, 1872.

For the best pen of three fine combing-wool rams, there were six entries, but only three lots were put into the pens, the extreme inclemency of the weather having probably thrown some of the animals out of condition. Mr. E. K. Cox took the prize with a pen of three very fine woolled rams, but it was to be regretted that animals of such various ages should be shown together. The certificate was given to the Hon. G. H. Cox's three very fine free combing wool rams, which were probably considered not to show the same unevenness of character as the premier lot. There were only two pens of three clothing-wool rams. The first prize was awarded to Mr. E. K. Cox, and the second place to the Hon. G. H. Cox. The first lot were very fine rams of their class, and the second scarcely inferior, though probably not so even. There were thirteen entries for Mr. Austin's prize, the competitors being Mr. E. K. Cox, Hon. G. H. Cox, Messrs. Lamb and Roberts, who each showed two pens; Mr. C. C. Cox, who showed five pens, Mr. G. Rouse and Messrs. F. and A. Cox. The prize went to Mr. E. K. Cox, and the certificate to the Hon. G. H. Cox—the hogget rams having in each case been shown in August-September, the others in the list in October. The judges had considerable difficulty in coming to a decision, owing to the excellence of the various exhibits in this class. Messrs. Lamb and Roberts's special prize for the best pen of three two-tooth rams went to Messrs. F. and A. Cox, the only exhibitors; and for Mr. Davidson's special prize for the best pen of four-tooth rams there was no entry. The silver cup for the champion ram brought eleven fine rams together, the exhibitors being the Hon. G. H. Cox, Messrs. Lamb and Roberts, Mr. C. C. Cox, Mr. R. Rouse, Messrs. F. and A. Cox, and Mr. G. Rouse. Mr. George Rouse's Tasmanian ram carried off the cup. The wool on this ram was rather short, but was pretty even, and the animal was well covered. Messrs. F. and A. Cox's two-tooth ram was placed second. The competition was keen, most of the animals having great merit. For the best pen of three fine combing wool ewes there were nine entries. Ages were not specified. The competitors were Mr. E. K. Cox, Messrs. Lamb and Roberts, Hon. G. H. Cox, W. G. Rouse, and Messrs. F. and A. Cox. The gentlemen last named secured both first and second place with pens which showed the character of the Mudgee wool in perfection, the fleeces being fine, long, and dense. For the best pen of three clothing ewes there were four entries—Mr. E. K. Cox, Messrs. Lamb and Roberts, Messrs. F. and A. Cox (who obtained the certificate), and the Hon. G. H. Cox, to whom was awarded the prize. These pens showed extreme density and evenness of fleece. There were thirteen entries for Mr. Rouse's prize, but the lots were rather mixed, there being no restriction with regard to combing or clothing woolled sheep. The exhibitors were the Hon. G. H. Cox (awarded second place), Messrs. Lamb and Roberts, Mr. C. C. Cox (who won the cup), Mr. E. K. Cox, Mr. G. Rouse, and Messrs. F. and A. Cox. There were some remarkably good sheep in the pens, and the judges had a great deal of difficulty in coming to a decision—difficulty greatly increased by the character of the sheep shown, some being of a long combing description, and some more of a clothing character. Messrs. F. and A. Cox's special prize for the best pen of three two-tooth ewes was awarded to the Hon. G. H. Cox, and the certificate to Messrs. Lamb and Roberts, the other exhibitor being Mr. E. K. Cox. In this lot, some of the animals shown had four teeth up, but were of the same age as those which had two; and hence the judges had great difficulty in making their award. For Mr. Davidson's special prize of four-tooth ewes there was no entry. There were nine entries for the prize offered for the champion ewe, the exhibitors being the Hon. G. H. Cox, Mr. G. Rouse, Messrs. F. and A. Cox, Messrs. Lamb and Roberts, and Mr. E. K. Cox. Messrs. Lamb and Roberts's Tasmanian-bred ewe, which took the prize last year, was again adjudged to be the champion this. She was well covered with that long, silky, free combing wool peculiar to the Tasmanian sheep; but, as compared with the Mudgee type, was wanting in density. The second position was awarded to the Hon. G. H. Cox, for a ewe which was very much admired, her fleece being of medium length, of great density, strong, fine, and elastic. No prize was given for maiden prize rams, there being but one entry. The prize for the stud ram and progeny was awarded to Mr. E. K. Cox.

None of the sheep at the show were for sale; but I hear that Mr. Kilgur has bought 800 young rams of the LVE flock (Mr. J. J. Reily's), on account of Messrs. Smith, Travers, and Co., of Queensland.

At about 1 o'clock the stewards, judges, and others sat down to an excellent luncheon provided at the instance of the committee. Among the gentlemen present were the Hon. G. H. Cox, Mr. Robert Lowe, Mr. N. P. Bayley, Mr. J. J. Reily, Mr. Charles Lawson, Mr. C. H. Cox, Mr. George Rouse, Mr. George Loder, Mr. J. de V. Lamb, Mr. R. Rouse, Mr. John Lee, Mr. Robert Tindall, Mr. Clement Sabine Mr. Living, and others.

The health of the judges was proposed by the Chairman (the Hon. G. H. Cox); and the compliment was appropriately acknowledged by Mr. Sabine (of South Australia), and Mr. Living (of Queensland).

The Chairman, before the company separated, appealed to the residents of Mudgee to assist the society, for his experience to-day had shown him that considerable outlay on the ground was required before they could expect persons from a distance to visit them. He asked them to look above at the tattered condition of the tent, which did not afford the slightest protection from the wind or the weather, and he thought that it was not creditable to an important town like Mudgee that things should remain as they were. He hoped the residents of Mudgee would come forward and enable the society to make the necessary improvements on the show-ground.

COMMERCIAL.

PRODUCE CIRCULARS

Mort and Co.—Wool: No public sales were held this week, and quotations remain without alteration. The same remarks apply to sheepskins. Hides were in fair supply to-day, but the sales opened much weaker, buyers being indisposed to purchase except at a reduction on previous week's quotations, and as a consequence several considerable lots were held over. Our sales included over 600; taken at 5½d to 6d for salted of medium to heavy weights, and 6½d to 8d for light and dry conditioned hides. Horse hides: Supply moderate, and in fair demand at about late rates. Tallow: Trade parcels were in improved request this afternoon, and for several lines suitable for candles we obtained from £36 5s to £39 17s 6d per ton. For low quality no improvement in price was noticeable. Quotations for shipping parcels are without alteration, viz., beef, £32 to £33 10s; mutton (little offering), £36 to £37 per ton. Leather: The demand for shipping parcels of sole leather is less active, sales being difficult to make except at prices which leave little or no margin to the tanners, who rather than accept present figures seem disposed to ship on their own account. Kip, calf, and tweed maintain their values, but harness is a trifle easier. Our sales this week were:—17 bales sole at 10½d to 11d, 7 bundles kip at 24½d to 25½d; tweed, 18½d to 44d; kangaroo, 3s 4d; harness (medium quality), 14½d to 15½d; bridle, 14s per side. Hair: Horsetail brings from 24d to 30d; mane, 12d to 16d per lb. Hornsand shank bones are wanted if in clean sound condition, the former being worth 20s to 30s per 100, and the latter £12 to £15 per ton.—July 4.

Harrison, Jones, and Devlin.—Wool: There having been no sales held this week prevents us from making any remarks under this head. There is very little wool coming to hand, and this will, no doubt, cause the next catalogue here to be small. The account sales by the present English mail seem quite up to expectations, and this, no doubt, will tend to strengthen prices here. Sheepskins: There have been none offered at auction this week, but private sales show the market to be firm at last quotations. Tallow: Shipping lots of tallow this week were entirely neglected, and the bidding for trade parcels was also very dull; consequently, the greater part of the catalogues had to be passed. The range of the sales was—Best mutton, 36s to 38s, lot 39s 3d; beef, 30s to 33s; mixed and station, 28s to 33s 6d. All trade lots sold. We offered an average catalogue, but only sold a few trade lots. Quotations: Best mutton, £35 10s to £36 10s; best beef, £32 to £34; mixed and station, £28 to £31. Hides: There was not much alteration in these at yesterday's sales, except that the demand for butchers' hides and those in wet condition was scarcely so good. Quotations—Best heavy, 5d to 5½d; heavy, 5½d to 6d; medium, 6d to 6½d; light and middling, 7d to 8d; horse continue to sell well at prices lately obtained, viz. 12s to 13s 6d. Hair still sells well: horse (tail), 2s to 2s 3d; ditto (mare), 12d to 15d; cow, 6½d to 13d; horns, 20s to 29s; bones, 11s to 15s. Leather: There was a large quantity of sole leather offered on Thursday, and there being no shipping buyers in the market caused prices to rule for this description rather lower; good lots for town use met with good competition. Kip was in short supply, and sold at an advance upon last week's rates. Harness was forward in large quantities, and prices were fully ½d to 1d lower. Other dressed leathers are without alteration. Quotations—Sole, 10½d to 11½d; kip, first quality, 2s to 2s 5d; second ditto, 20d to 23d; harness, 14½d to 16½d; cow tweed, 4s 3d to 4s 9d; horse ditto, 3s to 3s 6d; calf, 3s 6d to 4s 3d. Tin Ore: We have to notice a better disposition to operate in this commodity, and prices for good per centage ores are firmer than at last week's sales; lower class ores are in fair demand. Quotations—Ores, 70 per cent. and upwards, 19s 3d to 19s 9d per unit; lower qualities according to per centage; slab tin, £125 to £130 per ton.—July 4.

John Bridge.—Wool: No sales were held this week, and the market may be regarded as still the same. Tallow has receded, owing to adverse news from home and increased freights. The trade are now the principal buyers at say 32s to 37s for mutton, and 29s to 33s for beef. Bones, horns, and hair still command attention, and sell readily at 10s to 18s per hundred for best shanks; horns at say 15s to 30s per hundred, and hair at 19d to 29d for horsetail, and 8d to 18d for cow. Tin Ore: At the sales held this week a better feeling prevailed, and any lots showing 50 to 75 per cent., found buyers at £47 to £76 per ton. Flour remains without alteration at say 14s 6d to 15s 6d for best, and 13s to 14s for second quality; wheat is in fair request at prices quoted last week. Hides were in fair supply this week, and prices for heavy lots showed a decided decline; about ½d to ½d may now be looked upon as the price for hides, weighing say 60 or more, whilst lighter weights are worth 6d to 6½d, and in greater demand than ever. Leather was in full supply, and for sole and harness lower prices ruled; kip and other light goods, however, commanded full rates, and prices may be taken thus:—Sole, 10½d to 11½d; harness, 16d to 17½d for best, and 14d to 15½d for second quality; bag, 18s to 19s 6d per side; bridle, 19s to 20s; kip, 26d to 29d per lb. One consignment on my catalogue realised 29d; calf, say 3s 9d to 4s 3d; cow tweed, 4s to 4s 6d; yearling, 4s to 4s 9d.—July 4.

John A. Turner.—Tallow extremely dull of sale. Shipping parcels are totally neglected. I submitted 115 casks, only about half of which found purchasers. There has been a good inquiry for mutton, of which the market is bare. My quotations are—Mutton, £36 to £38; beef, £31 to £34; stations, £27 to £32 per ton. Hides: As a fall was noticeable in the price of some descriptions of leather, it was thought probable that this class of produce would have receded in value, however, as any sale was concerned proved to the contrary. The demand for light and medium is in excess of number brought forward. For the former I obtained from 9d to 9½d, and for the latter 6½d to 8½d per lb. Horsehides slightly lower; yearlings and calfskins in demand at late rates. Leather: The adverse news received by last mail has prevented shippers from operating at late rates. Prices have in consequence given way fully 0½d per lb.; for choice brands and for medium sorts, 6½d per lb. In small parcels suitable for local trade an advance, however, was secured. Three parcels on my catalogue were taken thus:—GG, at 12½d; CB, at 12½d; CB&Co, 12d per lb. Harness has given way, the market being overstocked. For the GG brand I obtained 17½d, and CB 16½d; HE and LS, 16d and 16½d per lb. Kip still maintains its price, but should any large lots come forward is likely to rule lower. The principal lots on my catalogue were taken thus:—Kip, J&S, at 27d; CB&RG, 26d; GAT and S&S, at 25½d; EG at 24½d; J&S and E&H at 24d; yearling tweed, J&S, at 5s 7d; S&S at 5s 6d; calf, 4s to 4s 4d; yearling, 2s 4d to 2s 7d; wallaby, 3s 3d; kangaroo, 3s 4d; cordovan, 3s 2d; pieces 6d to 10½d per lb.; bag, 19s 10d per side; basils, two large lots at 10s per dozen. Hair: An unusually large quantity brought forward and disposed of at prices ranging, for horse, 18d to 28d; cow, 5d to 14d per lb. Horns and Bones: No sales to report, the lots forward being too small for shippers.—July 4.

STOCK AND STATION CIRCULARS.

Harrison, Jones, and Devlin.—Stations: We have to notice an increasing demand for both cattle and sheep properties well situated, although we have not heard of any transactions taking place since our last. We hope to be able to report the sale of some valuable stations in our next. Fat Cattle: The number yarded this week was 911 head, the bulk of which were of medium and low quality; any prime pens were well competed for, and realized 20s to 22s 6d per 100 lbs. We quote low and medium quality from 17s 6d to 20s per 100 lbs. Fat Sheep: 5389 penned. The market has again been fully supplied with medium sheep, prime wethers have been more eagerly sought for, and have sold at a slight advance on last week's quotations. We sold 200 wethers (J. Webb's) at 13s, 652 ditto (J. H. Stewart's) at 12s 6d, 947 ditto (J. H. Morrison's) at 11s. Store Cattle: We have still a good many inquiries both for good lots of breeding cattle and store bullocks, but find purchasers far in excess of sellers. Store Sheep: The demand for these still continues good, but lambing and shearing being so near will limit transactions taking place.—July 4.

Sullivan and Simpson.—Stations: The disposition to invest in this class of property has not diminished, and any well situated properties command much attention. There are several purchasers in the market. Fat Cattle: The market opened on Monday with a fair supply, but on Thursday a larger number came forward, and prices were consequently easier. The quality of those forward was principally good. We quote best pens of bullocks £8 to £8 10s, second quality £6 10s to £7, all others in proportion. Our sales during the week have been 200 bullocks (White's), at £7 12s 6d; 56 ditto (ditto), at £7 5s 5d; 30 ditto (Bowman's), at £6 10s 8d; 200 ditto (York's) at £8 2s 9d; 40 ditto (O'Brien's), delivered at Bell View, at £7 10s. Fat Sheep: The market well supplied with middling quality; any good flocks sought after, and command top rates. We quote 60-lb. wethers worth 14s; 56-lb. ditto, 12s 6d to 13s; 50-lb. ditto, 10s to 11s. Store Cattle: We have had several inquiries for all bullocks, but there is great difficulty in getting those of fattening ages in large lots. We quote bullocks, 3 to 6, worth £4 10s to £4 12s 6d north, and £5 to £5 10s south. Store Sheep: Very few in the market at present. Owners are not disposed to sell till after shearing.—July 4.

G. M. Pitt.—Stations: I have numerous inquiries for good sheep and cattle stations, situated within easy distance of the Sydney or Melbourne markets. I have placed two large cattle properties under offer this week, but the flooded state of the country delays buyers from getting out to inspect. I have several Melbourne speculators waiting for something suitable, either in sheep or cattle, but present holders seem more inclined to wait the course of events, than sell out. Good cattle properties are increasing in value, and if the price of fat stock keeps up, I have no doubt a large business will be done next summer. The delivery of the Messrs. Hall's New South Wales stations has just been concluded, and the muster has been most satisfactory. Fat Cattle: 1500 head entered, of which 1150 were sold privately and through the yards, and the balance turned out unsold. Sales opened dull, with prices a shade easier than last week; and at the close middling and inferior were 10s lower. Prime quality did not suffer to the same extent, there being little of this description in the market. The Meat Company operated privately for about 100 head; had these been bought through the yards sales would have passed off much better. There are a good many cattle close, but these, if properly placed on the market, will not affect present prices. I quote best beef worth 21s to 22s per 100 lbs. My sales have been—200, mixed (John M'Elhone's), at £7 7s; 150 cows, ditto, at £5 17s 6d; 193 cows (J. and A. Badgery's), at quotations. Fat Sheep: A large number of middling and inferior sheep forward for the week's supply. The market was very dull, and little or no demand except for anything prime. Accounts from the country give a sorry description of the fat sheep on the road. In the majority of cases they are represented as stores, or greatly cut up. In some instances they have been blocked for three weeks by the creeks and rivers, with scarcely anything to eat. At Denman several lots have been unable to cross the river for over a fortnight, and the necessity of a bridge over that part of the Hunter is becoming more apparent every day. I would strongly advise owners who have any sheep on the road that have travelled far, to send them back, or sell as stores, as it will be impossible to land them here in marketable condition. I quote prime heavy wethers worth 13s to 14s. My sales have been 800 wethers (J. Christian and Co.'s), at 12s 3d to 12s 6d.—July 4.

Thomas Dawson.—Fat Cattle market firm at last week's quotations—say from 20s to 22s 6d for best pens, others in proportion. Fat Sheep market firm, very few first-class to hand. 52 lbs. wethers are worth 12s, 60 lbs. would bring a long figure, from 15s to 16s. I sold (Davis's) at a average of 12s 4½d, estimated to weigh 52 to 53 lbs. Store Sheep: No inquiries. Store Cattle are much inquired for. I sold 1000 this week at £4 7s 6d cash, at the yards, delivery beyond Maryborough, Queensland. Horses: Some good well broken hacks, saddle and harness, are inquired for.—July 4.

Butler and Inglis.—The supply of fat cattle this week was about equal to requirements, but prices remained very firm, and may be quoted—Fat bullocks, £7 to £9 10s; cows, £5 5s to £7 10s; prime beef, 22s 6d per 100 lbs. Fat sheep: There was about the usual supply to hand, and last week's prices were fully maintained. Fat wethers brought 11s 6d to 14s 6d; others in proportion. Lambs: Good were very scarce this week, and are worth from 14s 6d to 18s 6d; second quality, 8s 6d to 11s. Milch Cows: There is still a good demand for really first-class, which command high prices—from £8 to £12; inferior, from £4 10s to £6 10s. Calves: The supply continues short of demand, and extreme rates are obtainable for first-class; first-class, 30s to 55s; second ditto, 20s to 25s. Pigs: There was a very large supply this week, and prices were scarcely so firm; prices ranged from 12s 6d to 55s.—July 4.

George Kiss.—Reports a marked improvement in the market this week for all useful horses offered for sale. Since the 26th June the following prices have been obtained:—At the Camperdown yards a lot of 35 light horses for Messrs. Brooke, ranging from £1 to £10. At the Bazaar a good number of cart horses from £10 to £21; a pair of match carriage colts £65, and a large number of saddle horses from £3 to £10. Good harness horses, stylish hacks, and draught horses wanted.—July 5.

SYDNEY LABOUR MARKET.

William Brown.—The labour market is well supplied with men requiring town and suburban employment as draymen, carters, porters, grooms, coachmen, waiters, cooks, gardeners, labourers, &c.; and moderately well attended by married couples, strong lads, and generally useful men. There is a good demand for agricultural and dairy servants (suitable hands of these classes are readily engaged), and ordinary inquiry for other descriptions of men servants. The numerous orders for female servants enables those possessing requisite qualifications readily to obtain situations in town and country.—July 4.

Alleged Cure for Small-Pox.—A correspondent of the Stockton Herald (America) gives the following as a cure for small-pox:—Cut this out for future reference:—"I herewith impend a receipt which has been used to my knowledge in hundreds of cases. It will prevent or cure the small-pox, even though the pittings are filling. When Jenner discovered the cow-pox in England, the world of science hurled an avalanche of fame on his head; but when the most scientific school of medicine in the world—that of Paris—published this receipt as a panacea for small-pox, it passed unheeded. It is unfailing as fate, and conquers in every instance. It is perfectly harmless when taken by a well person. It will also cure scarlet fever. Here is the receipt as I have used it, and cured many children of scarlet fever. Here it is as I have used it to cure the small-pox, when learned physicians said the patient must die: Sulphate of zinc, one grain; fox-glove (digitalis), one grain; one-half a teaspoonful of sugar, mix with two table-spoonfuls of water. When the above has been thoroughly mixed add four ounces of water. Take a teaspoonful every hour. Either disease will disappear in twelve hours. For a child, smaller doses according to age. If counties would compel physicians to use this there would be no need of pesthouses. If you value advice and experience, use this for that terrible scourge."

MESSRS. J. M. CROSBY AND CO., CHEMISTS, Scarborough, writes as follows:—
"9th September, 1872.
"James Hudson, Burr Bank, Scarborough, having suffered eight years from scurvy, ulcerated ankle, and abscess, and having taken six bottles of your world-famed Blood Mixture, is perfectly cured. He had spent pounds in doctors and chemists' medicines previously, and he is anxious that the properties of such a valuable medicine should be more known."

CURES OF SORES OF FOUR YEARS' STANDING.
"1, Cross-street, Ryde, Isle of Wright,
"16th November, 1872.
"Dear Sir,—My wife has taken nine bottles of your world-famed Blood Mixture. When she commenced, half of her face and eyebrows were covered with sores, brought on by fright about four years ago. She has been under the treatment of six different doctors, and all of no good, but since taking your Blood Mixture, all the sores are gone. I am thankful that I heard of your medicine, and only wish I had years before.
"I am, sir, your obedient servant,
"R. MALLARD."

CURE OF SCROFULOUS SORES.
"Trinity-street, Smethwick, near Birmingham,
"30th July, 1872.
"Mr. Clarke.—Sir,—My husband, I am glad to say, is quite cured, and is now able to attend to his business. His complaint was scrofulous sores; and he had been bad about eight years. He went to several doctors, and spent many pounds in trying different remedies, but still grew worse, and had kept his bed for the last two years, except a few hours at intervals. The discharge from the sores made him so weak, every one thought him in a consumption. We tried to get him in several institutions, but they would not admit him, as I believe they thought him past cure. The sores extended nearly all over his back and chest. It took one hour each day to dress the wounds, and the pain almost took his reason away. Nothing did him any good until we heard of your Blood Mixture. My husband is well known here; he is a house-agent and collector. The people are quite astonished, and it has induced many to try the Mixture. You are at liberty to make any use of this you please. Accept our grateful thanks.—I am, very respectfully,
"JANE MOWLAM."

CURE OF DREADFUL SKIN DISEASE.
"2, Albert-place, Southend, Essex.
"December, 1872.
"Dear Sir,—I write to express my sincere thanks to you, thanking God at the same time, for I am indeed greatly indebted to Him and also to you. I wrote some time ago for a case of your world-famed Blood Mixture, and it—the one case—has thoroughly, I believe cured me of a dreadful skin disease which I had for three or four years. I have waited some weeks since I finished the Mixture, but I do not see the least symptoms of the disease returning. It has cost me pounds and pounds, as I have been to several physicians in London, and two hospitals, and one single case of your medicine has completely cured me. I have recommended it to a friend who has had a skin disease, of a different nature to mine, for several years, and he is getting on very nicely indeed. Please receive my best heartfelt thanks, as I remain, yours truly,
"JOHN COUSINS."

EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF SKIN DISEASES
Mrs. Newcomb, Friesthorpe, near Market Rasen.
14th January, 1871.
"Cured of a very bad skin disease, after having spent over £100 in medical advice in the neighbourhood."

SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ringworms, Scald Heads, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humours and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally carried out of the system in a short time by the use of this world-famed Medicine.

IMPORTANT ADVICE TO ALL.
Cleanse the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions, or sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

"Dear Sir,—Having had a most distressing and severe cough, which caused me many sleepless nights and restless days, I was recommended by his LORDSHIP the EARL of CAITHNESS to try your most invaluable Balsam of Aniseed, and I can assure you, with the first dose I found immediate relief, even without having to suspend my various duties; and the first small bottle completely cured me; therefore I have the greatest confidence in recommending it to the million.—Most respectfully yours,
"W. LINSELL, H.M.B.G. Netley.

STEEDMAN'S SOOTHING POWDERS FOR CHILDREN CUTTING TEETH.
CAUTION TO PURCHASERS.
The value of this well known Family Medicine has been largely tested in all parts of the world, and by all grades of society, for upwards of FIFTY YEARS. Its well-earned extensive sale has induced SPURIOUS IMITATIONS, some of which in OUTWARD APPEARANCE so closely resemble the original as to have deceived many purchasers. The proprietor, therefore, feels it due to the public to give a special caution against the use of such imitations.
Purchasers are, therefore, requested carefully to observe the four following distinctive characteristics, without which none are genuine:—
1. In every case the words JOHN STEEDMAN, Chemist, Walworth, Surrey, are engraved on the Government stamp affixed to EACH PACKET.
2. Each SINGLE POWDER has directions for the dose, and the words John Steedman, Chemist, Walworth, Surrey, printed thereon.
3. The name Steedman is always spelt with two EEs.
4. The manufacture is carried on solely at Walworth, Surrey.
Sold in packets by all Chemists and Medicine Vendors, at 1s. 1½d. and 2s. 9d. each.

CHOICE CATTLE STATION,
Wide Bay and Burnett Districts, Queensland.

G. F. WANT has received instructions from Herbert B. Hughes, Esq., of Adelaide, to sell by public auction, at the Pastoral Exchange, 273, George-street, Sydney, on TUESDAY, 19th August, 1873, at 11 o'clock,

That very superior cattle station known as
situated in the Wide Bay and Burnett district, Queensland (about 40 miles north of Gayndah and close to Mount Perry), embracing a large area of first-class cattle country, richly grassed and most abundantly and permanently watered. The best evidence which can be given respecting the carrying capabilities of the above run, is that in January, 1871, the late proprietor had delivered to him 6200 head of cattle and 250 horses, all of which were then running on it. With the station will be sold a small herd of really well-bred and quiet cattle, numbering about 500 head, more or less.

The improvements, nearly all of which have been erected within the past four years, are very extensive and complete, and have been put up in the most substantial manner. At the head station there is a commodious 6-roomed weatherboard cottage (almost new), with detached kitchen and good garden; store, men's apartments, blacksmith's shop, meat-house, stable, and horse yard; one of the best stockyards in Queensland, capable of yarding 4000 head of cattle; large paddock estimated at 7000 acres, 2 small paddocks of about 200 and 100 acres, and a cultivation paddock. At Bannia, distant about 15 miles from the head station, there is a good shingled hut, stockyard, weaning yard, horse paddock of about 300 acres; also 12 miles of first-class post and rail fencing, which, by taking advantage of the natural features of the country, encloses an area capable of carrying 1000 bullocks, that can be used either for a heifer or bullock paddock.

Horses, stores, &c., at a valuation.

Full particulars can be obtained from G. F. Want, Pastoral Exchange, 273, George-street.
